POLICE AT WORK ON CASE

Cannot Find Out Why Little Boys Were Abandoned.

ALBANY, N. Y., August 28.—The eyes of the Albany police were focussed this afternoon upon the apparently inexplicable abandonment of a five-year-old boy and a six-months old baby at the Tenleyck Hotel by a couple who are registered there as "John W. Rogers and wife of San Francisco."

What at first appeared a simple case of child desertion has grown today to the proportions of a police mystery, possibly of a sinister importance.

The hotel people kept the matter quiet at first, hoping that the couple would return with some explanation.

Today the police were notified and the children were committed to the local institution.

There was suggestions, but no evidence, that the couple have met with accident or foul play, or have committed suicide. Papers found among their effects indicate instead that the couple may have sailed Saturday from New York on the steamship Campania.

MYSTERY DEEPENS.

The mystery deepened when the effects of the missing couple were examined today. Their trunk contained clothing and letters, including some from the New York law firm of Quigg, Bostwick & Coleman. There were unused railroad passes from Asheville to Washington and from Philadelphia to Bound Brook. Other effects included a bank deposit book from the Consolidated National Bank, New York.

That the couple sailed on the Cunard liner Campania last Saturday is suggested by a letter from a steamship agent of New York regarding passage on the Campania and asking for cash deposit required to hold the room.

HIS BUSINESS.

Other papers indicated that Rogers was vice president of the Congressional Corresponding Company, Washington, and was connected with California oil fields at Bakersfield, Cal.

The attention of the police has been drawn to the fact that among the abandoned papers are what purports to be two identical certified checks for $1491 on the Kern Valley Bank of Bakersfield, signed with the name of R. H. McDonald. In addition to these are three rubber stamps, made in separate lines, with which a check certification of this bank might be forged.

INSURGENTS ARE GIVEN SURPRISE

BERLIN, August 28.—A detachment of marines and sailors from the German cruiser Bussard surprised about 1,000 insurgent natives, half of whom were armed with rifles, near Kowoni, German East Africa, August 25. The Germans killed seventy-three of the insurgents and drove many others into the river, where they were drowned. No German casualties have been reported.

WILL OF JOHN HAY ADMITTED.

WASHINGTON, August 28.—The will of John Hay, late Secretary of State, was today admitted to probate. Letters testamentary were granted to Payne Whitney and James Walcott Wadsworth Jr. upon their filing a special bond of $250,000, conditioned upon the payment of all claims, debts and legacies chargeable against the estate.

WILL NOT CLOSE THE WINERIES

Good News for the Workmen in Fresno County.

FRESNO, Cal., August 28.—The eight wineries of the California Wine Association in this county will not close for the season as was threatened by the stringent Government regulations. Commissioner Yerkes of the Internal Revenue Department has been heard from, and the wineries will operate this season.

George P. Beveridge, local manager of the association, said this morning that a telegram received yesterday by the San Francisco office from Yerkes, promising to make the situation plain and easy, and thus the matter has been settled for the present.

The trouble was precipitated last Saturday at the Scandinavian winery. Government officers requiring fermentation for sweet wine and brandy to be done in separated and disconnected worms, fermenting tanks registered and records kept open to revenue officers.

Wine men say they cannot tell what grapes they will use for wine and what for brandy until fermentation has taken place, and rather than run up against these and other new stringent rules they decided to close down for the season. This has been obviated.

CHABOTS WERE IN ACCIDENT

Have a Narrow Escape From Serious Injury at Summer Home.

Mrs. Remi Chabot of this city and some lady friends, while out driving recently near Chateau Remi, the summer home of Mrs. Chabot, near St. Helena, were victims of a reckless motor-cyclist. Nearly all of the occupants of the carry-all in which they were riding were more or less injured, but have about recovered from the unpleasant experience. The only person to escape injury was the infant daughter of Mrs. Dr. J. P. Dunn.

The horses drawing the vihicle were frightened by a flying motor-cyclist. The carry-all was driven against a bank and its occupants were thrown into a ditch on the roadside, sustaining cuts, bruises and other injuries. Mrs. Chabot was cut on one of her limbs. Miss Claire Chabot and Miss Marion Everson were bruised about the head and limbs. Miss Elsie Everson had both ankles sprained. The nurse who had charge of the Dunn baby was scratched, but her innocent charge happily experienced no discomfort. The mother of the child was not in the vehicle at the time of the accident.

JAPAN IS AFTER THE CASH

New Offer Would Probably Contain Indemnity Demand.

PRTSMOUTH, August 28.—M. Witte frankly expressed skepticism of the effect of the new proposal Japan may be able to offer. He does not believe Japan will withdraw entirely her demand for reimbursement of the expenses of the war and, to scale it down or attempt to disguise it in another form, he declares would not change the situation.

NO MODIFICATION.

Mr. Takahira is quoted as having replied in the negative when asked whether any modification of the Japanese proposal would touch the question of indemnity. But such a response may have only been technical. A clear road by which Japan could obtain a very large sum and Russia stand by her present declaration can be discerned if Japan will offer in a new proposal to withdraw the price she named for the redemption of the Island of Sakhalien. Accordingly Russia would in turn involve a change upon the part of the St. Petersburg government. But indemnity as a stumbling block would be out of the way and renewed pressure properly put on Emperor Nicholas. M. Witte personally, it is believed sympathizes with such a solution and would not be averse to a genuine redemption as he recognizes the de facto possession of the island by Japan and her claim to reimbursement for its relinquishment.

MEETING AT TOKIO.

If the meeting today of the Tokio Cabinet results in some such proposal the proposition would seem to be so fair that Emperor Nicholas could not refuse without assuming before the world the responsibility of continuing the war. In a twinkling, therefore, if Japan now absolutely would withdraw her bill for the cost of the war, the basis of accord may be reached. One of the remaining dangers would undoubtedly be a false gauging upon the state of Japan's attitude. The conciliatory spirit Japan displayed in her compromise proposal of Wednesday is not emphasized by a still further recession and is apt to be interpreted at St. Petersburg as a symptom of great weakness, and would serve only to make the Emperor and his advisers more obdurate. But with such a proposition before him, M. Witte could once more assert himself and throw his own masterful personality into the scale.

MARRIAGE A LOVE MATCH

WOOSTER, August 28.—Captain Taggart was again called to the stand for a few moments and asked about the papers received from the War Department. He stated that they were just as they were when they came, that nothing had been removed from them whatever.

Mrs. Taggart then took the stand in her own behalf. She said she was 35 years old. She stated that she was adopted by the Culver family in Chicago when she was three or four years old, that her adopted father who at one time was president of the Chicago Board of Trade, had given her every educational advantage.

Asked as to her marriage with Captain Taggart, she declared it had been a pure love match.

PEACE TERMS AT A STANDSTILL

Czar's Reply to Roosevelt's Appeal Was Only Partially Responsive.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 28.—The Associated Press has definite knowledge that several days ago President Roosevelt was authorized on behalf of Japan to waive all claims for indemnity or reimbursement for the cost of the war and to cede back to Russia the northern half of Sakhalien Island, leaving the question of redemption price of the sale to arbitration of a mixed commission. This statement was transmitted to the Russian Emperor through the Ambassador at St. Petersburg. An Associated Press telegram announced that the Czar's reply was "partially responsive."

CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD.

There is reason to believe that this proposition on behalf of Japan was not clearly understood at Peterhof, but was supposed to be a revival of the efforts of Japan to secure an indemnity under the guise of purchase of a fraction of Sakhalien.

It is believed the conference which was held last evening between Messrs. Witte and Takahira was for the purpose of clearing up the situation and it is not impossible that following the precedent of its ally, Great Britain, Japan will agree to settle the whole question of the redemption price of Sakhalien as the Dogger Bank troubles were adjusted.

JAPANESE CONTENTION.

The Japanese contention is that Sakhalien is de facto Japanese territory and that Russia has no means at her command for its present recovery. It is understood that M. Witte has accepted this view in principle and expresses the judgment that they should pay something in the nature of redemption money.

It is believed that the Tokio council which is in session this morning is considering this phase of the question. It is not true that the adjournment which was agreed to last night until Tuesday, was made at the suggestion of President Roosevelt.

There is reason for believing that he knew nothing whatever of it, but that adjournment was by mutual agreement between Russians and Japanese.

NO NEWS.

At noon Mr. Takahira said that nothing had yet been received from Tokio.

The peace congress is likened to a dying man kept alive by oxygen administered by President Roosevelt. Yet no actual evidence can be obtained here that the President has made a new appeal to the Emperor of Japan. What may have been only a slip of the tongue from M. Witte was so interpreted. Speaking of the final decision of the Tokio Government, he remarked upon the fourteen-hour difference between Oyster Bay and Tokio, but then hastily corrected himself and said:

"New York and Tokio."

CZAR'S REPLY.

Certainly the President has not initiated new representations at Peterhof. Emperor Nicholas' reply to Ambassador Meyer was of such a nature as to preclude another tentative in that direction at this stage. Later the way might be open, but for the moment to offer new advice in the face of what practically amounted to an ultimatum from the Emperor on the subject of indemnity might be to court a rebuff. New representations at Tokio alone would perhaps not be in accordance with the President's role. At least it would constitute a change in his attitude.

THE COMPROMISE.

Heretofore he has not acted as mediator, but as the head of a state friendly to both parties. The President took good care that this should be distinctly understood. The compromise he suggested to Peterhof he suggested simultaneously to Tokio. It would seem more probable therefore that the President has not attempted to influence directly the questions of Japan's response to the flat refusal of Russia to pay anything in the shape of indemnity. All eyes turn to Tokio, where the momentous question is being—and indeed, perhaps, already has been decided. The action of the meeting of the Cabinet and elder statesmen this morning was awaited with feverish anxiety.

THE CONFERENCE.

PORTSMOUTH, August 28.—It is now learned that the conference between Messrs. Witte and Takahira last evening did not bear upon the question of the cession of Sakhalien or indemnity.

PUBLIC NOT INFORMED.

TOKIO, August 28, 10:30 a. m.—The public still remains uninformed regarding the latest developments at Portsmouth, but it seems convinced that it is useless to hope for peace. The financial market reflected this sentiment on opening today, and it declared sharply. The shares of the Exchange itself declined twenty yen, the heaviest break on the share list.

The failure of the peace negotiations will be generally regretted, but the press and all other expressions of public opinion indicate a widespread preference for the continuance of the war rather than the acceptance of unsatisfactory terms.

Underlying the popular attitude is a deep rooted confidence that General Oyama will defeat General Linevitch and take Harbin, and that the Japanese troops will completely overrun the coast provinces of the Russians, with every possibility of a great decrease in the cost of military operations after the Russian army has been defeated, even if the war is continued for an extended period.

MORGAN DINES WITH PRESIDENT

OYSTER BAY, August 28.—J. Pierpont Morgan today took luncheon with the President at Sagamore Hill and discussed with him matters pertaining to the Canton-Hankow railroad in China. He left immediately after luncheon. No authoritative statement about the visit further than this was given.

HE SAYS WOMAN WAS CAUSE

An Ex-Soldier Goes to Prison for Three Years.

Charles Quinn, an ex-soldier, was sentenced to three years at San Quentin this morning by Judge Waste for attempting to sell a horse and buggy from the Black Hawk Stables at San Mateo. Quinn had been out with a woman, bent upon spending some $70 he had, and found themselves a day or two later in San Francisco. He stated that when the money was about gone he proposed going back with the rig and she proposed that they drive back to Oakland by the way of San Jose so that they would not have to go over on the ferry.

They got as far as San Mateo, when driving became tiresome, and she proposed that he sell the rig and they could continue their spree. While trying to sell the rig he was taken into custody and brought back to Oakland.

THREE YEARS.

C. W. Schaberg, a young man, was sentenced to three years at Folsom prison this morning by Judge Waste for passing a fictitious check on Peter Christiansen. There was some evidence that went to show that he had done something of the same kind before. Both Quinn and Schaberg plead guilty to the charges and stated that they did not care about having attorneys appointed to defend them, but would take their punishment so as to get over with it as soon as possible.

WANTED YOUNGER WORKMAN

Trouble at the Alameda Light Works Over Position.

ALAMEDA, August 28.—The trouble brewing for some time at the Municipal Electric Light Plant as mentioned exclusively in the Oakland TRIBUNE came to a head this morning when Joseph O. Messer was retired from the position of Chief Engineer of the light plant where he has served for fifteen years.

Messer has had some misunderstanding for some time with Joseph B. Kahn, the Superintendent of the Light Works. He was asked by Kahn to take the night shift at the works between the hours of 1 and 9 a. m., but refused.

Messer states that he had been Chief Engineer officially for two years, and that he felt he should be given the preference in the matter, and that he could not accept the night work as his health would not permit it.

Kahn declares that Messer was responsible for the recent accident to the old engine at the works, and that he desired to have a younger man in charge in the day time who had a knowledge of electric wiring.

There are four shifts at the works and it is stated that W. S. Yaw, one of the assistant engineers, who has applied for the position will be appointed in place of Messer.

Engineer Messer has been connected with the Electric Light Company for fifteen years or practicaly since its inception. He has been in charge at the works for many years, but although he had formerly had trouble with the late City Electrician G. A. Wiese, it was believed that his position was assured.

After the recent accident at the works Engineer Messer declares that he was asked by Superintendent Kahn to present his resignation, but refused. He was then given the opportunity of taking the night shift, but declined to comply with the orders of the Superintendent.

Today Engineer Messer stated that he had refused to resign and was retired. He also intimated that Superintendent Kahn had taken a dislike to him in connection with a fraternal matter. He said that he had been in the works for a number of years, and that he did not really need the job but had hoped to remain there for another year.

Superintendent Kahn says he needed a young man and had no desire to injure Messer, and that he believes Messer was given an opportunity to resign.

Messmer has been receiving a salary of $100 for his work, but the regular salary paid is $85.

WILL CONTROL ALL THE FINANCES

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 28.—A collective note from the embassies giving notice of the appointment of commissioners to control the finances of Macedonia was presented to the Porte today.

YOUTH TELLS OF KISSES

Declares That Mrs. Wilson Did Not Forget Him.

John L. Wilson, a locomotive engineer, who is now being sued for divorce by Mary A. Wilson, whose home before her marriage was at Raymond began his defense this morning which is to be an attempt to show that she was not always just what a wife should be. The first witness called to the stand was Harry Sheppard, a youth about sixteen years of age who testified that Mrs. Wilson and her sisters had kissed him and a companion by the name of Frank Lamb, one night after they had been to a party together.

THE KISS.

Sheppard upon cross-examination could not remember where the kiss had been planted on his mouth, or cheek but was sure it was not at his solicitation. The other girls however did the same to him and he half admitted that he had been siezed and kissed as a good deal of a joke. That same evening at the dance Lamb stated that Mrs. Wilson had gone with several other to the room of Engineer Curran where they had partaken of refreshments consisting of beer and eatables, e, however, said there was no promiscuous kissing there that he saw.

There was an effort on the part of Wilson's attorney to show that improper relations had existed between Mrs. Wilson and Curran and to this end he called David O'Mally, a fireman, who said that he had fired for Wilson since January of this year until July. He also fired for Curran for about a year before he went onto Wilson's engine. O'Mally said Mrs. Wilson had called him up over the telephone one day at Raymond and told him about a note she wished to send to Curran and told him to tell Curran that he would find it at Station A or Station B, he forgot which.

VERY NERVY.

The conversation ended and in a minute or so O'Malley state dthat the telephone rang again and Mrs. Wilson said that she hoped that he would not consider it very nervy of her to have rung him up. He said that he told her he had not thought anything about it. She wanted to know if he was very busy and he said that he was a little as he was about to go out. Then she asked me if I was going to see my sweetheart and I told her that I did not have one and asked her if she was not sory for me and she said: "'Well, come down to my house and I will try and learn to you you.'"

Under cross examination O'Mally stated that he had never spoken to Mrs. Wilson until she rang him up over the telephone at that time although they had known eac other by sight for several years. He was working under Curran at the time and the fact that she wanted to send Curran a message he supposed was the reason for calling him up. He said that he did not know of course that it was Mrs. Wilson at the other end of the line, but she said that it was Molly, the name she was known by, and said that she supposed that he would know who it was.

O'Mally also testified that in the early part of 1903 Mrs. Wilson spent some little time at Madera, and that he and Curran left there ever day, and that Mrs. Wilson and Curran often talked together, generally on the steps of the hotel and once near the engine.

HALF UNCLE.

Robert L. Wood, a half uncle of Mrs. Wilson, stated that on July 29, 1903, Mrs. Wilson had come to his home in Raymond and at that time his father was ill and not expected to live. Mrs. Wilson, he said, had been having some trouble and a divorce was talked of, and he said that Mrs. Wilson told him then that she would never go on with a divorce until she had a deed for the house in Oakland. Wood is a deputy county assessor at Raymond, and on cross-examination it was brought out that he and Mrs. Wilson's father had had some business difficulties, although they were now good friends.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE.

The most damaging evidence brought out was given by an engineer by the name of Fred V. Welch, whom Mrs. Wilson knew. He told of a dinner they had

DANCING ON NEW EAST TWELFTH STREET

Citizens Are Greatly Pleased Over the New East Oakland Improvement.

Dancing on two new blocks of pavement in East Oakland to the strains of music of the Fifth Regiment Band, was the means taken by the residents of East Twelfth street, Saturday evening of celebrating their joy over a much needed improvement of that section of the city.

Mayor Frank K. Mott was there and delivered a short address in which he expressed himself as delighted as any of the residents of that particular section at the consummation of the work done.

To the work of Albert Olander and Deputy County Clerk George Pierce and several others is given the credit for the success of the Saturday evening celebration.

The occasion for the jubilee was the improvement of East Twelfth street between Eleventh and Tairteenth Avnues. This portion of the street has been badly cut up for many months. It is in the center of the business portion of the section of the city and finally the resident and business men got together and raised the necessary funds for the bitumenizing the street.

Saturday night the work was finished and in return to invitations sent out through the city from 1,500 to 2,000 gathered there and by their presence added to the throng that celebrated the affair.

These particular blocks were roped in and before any teams had driven over it had been rendered as clean as possible, and made the entire affair a departure in the way of a celebration over civic improvement.

MATTERS HANDLED BY THE SUPERVISORS

Business Before the Board Carefully Passed Upon by County Fathers.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, this morning, Supervisors Horner, Rowe, Mitchell and Talcott were present. Supervisor Kelley was absent.

County Treasurer Feidler sent in his estimate of the supplies needed by his estimate for the fiscal year of 1905-06. It comprised, a list of envelopes, inks, pads, pencils, rubber bands, pens, etc. But blank books were not enumerated because the treasurer said that he could not form an estimate of the number of them which would be required.

LAST WOODEN CULVERT.

Plans and specifications for the construction of a concrete bridge across a creek on the main county road from Oakland to Haywards, 56 feet south of the eastern line of Laurel avenue in San Lorenzo Road District, Eden Township, by County Surveyor Prather, were adopted and bids for the erection of the same will be opened on September 18, at 10 o'clock a. m.

This bridge will supplant the only remaining plank culvert, of the many which, only a few years ago, intersected the road between Oakland and Haywards. All of them, by degrees, have been, one by one, removed by Supervisor Talcott and replaced with concrete culverts which will last forever, thus saving expense of repairs to the county and giving a guarantee of safety for life and limb.

ROAD CONTRACT.

The contract for macadamizing a portion of County Road No. 1009, leading from Russell station on the Southern Pacific Railroad to Haywards from a point 1600 feet easterly from the railroad track, and easterly 4000 feet, in Mt. Eden Road District, was awarded to E. B. & A. L. Stone, the price being $8118.

LAPSE OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

Resolutions were adopted declaring lapsed the Highland and La Coste School Districts in this county, on the recommendation of County Superintendent of Schools Crawford, because of the attendance at each being lower than the minimum required by law.

Resolution were also adopted attaching Highland School District to Townsend School District and Lacoste School District to Vallecitos School District.

The sale of property of the Highland and Lacoste School Districts was ordered by resolution and the proceeds were ordered credited to the several School Districts to which they were attached.

Bids for steam road rollers were received, the cost varying with the weight of the machine, as follows. Port Huron Engine and Thresher Company, roller 32000 pounds, $3500; 14-ton roller, $3275; 12-ton roller, $3100.

Henshaw, Buckley & Co., offered Springfield steam roller 30,000 pounds and the Kelly rollers of 30,000 pounds each.

The specifications, however, called for a roller of 32,000 pounds, and Henshaw, Buckley & Co., offered to put 2,000 pounds extra on the wheels making a total weight of 32,000 pounds. The price of either of these machines was $3950.

The bid of Port Huron Company for a fifteen-ton roller was accepted. The roller will be used in the district of Supervisor Horner.

A map of the Rosenthal tract was filed. It was understood that no thoroughfares in the tract were accepted by the county.

The application of James E. Clarke to be re-enrolled as a monthly beneficiary of the county at the rate of $6 was re-referred to the Associated Charities. That organization had reported unfavorably upon the application of Clarke and his wife when first presented and the applicant sought the Board's assistance over the shoulders of the Associated Charities. The reference of it by the Supervisors to the Associated Charities was for the purpose of ascertaining the reasons for the refusal of that body to grant the application.

A plat of a tract of land by the Realty Syndicate in East Oakland, was placed on file.

The Supervisors agreed to inspect a bridge over Kaiser creek in Castro Valley.

Adjourned.

HE DIED FROM HIS INJURIES

Alexander Weymeth Passes Away in the Encinal.

ALAMEDA, August 28.—Alexander Weymeth, who for a number of years was employed at the Pacific Coast Borax Works at the West End, died last night at the Alameda Sanatorium as the result of a fracture of the skull, which he sustained at the works twenty-three days ago, when he was caught in a rapidly revolving shaft and thrown into a seven-foot empty tank. Weymeth has made a long and heroic struggle for his life, but for the last few days has been sinking rapidly.

He was employed for twelve years at the Borax Works and was a skilled mechanic and assistant engineer. On August 5, in some manner he caught his blouse on the steel shaft and was carried through the air with terrible rapidity, until his clothing was completely torn from his body, and was then thrown into an empty vat where he became unconscious.

When he became conscious he called for assistance and was extracted from his position, and removed to the Alameda Sanatorium.

Weymeth was 45 years of age, a native of Switzerland, and had resided on Webster street. The remains have been taken to the local branch morgue, where an inquest will be held by Fred S. Cone, acting for Coroner Mehrmann.

TRIED TO HANG IN PRISON

Annie Larsen Would Rather be Dead Than in Jail.

Annie Larsen, arrested for drunkenness last night, after a brief stay in her cell attempted to commit suicide by hanging herself by a small strip of cloth torn from the bed clothing. When she was cut down she was black in the face, but after recovering only laughed and said that it was a joke.

This morning Police Judge Samuels gave her three days in the city prison to think over her past misdeeds.

"It's nearly five months since I have been here," said the defendant, who was in a repentant mood. "I have tried to lead a good life and succeeded for several months. I hope you will be lenient with me."

Judge Samuels thought that a fine of $6 or three days in prison would be suitable to her case and imposed that sentence.

MICHAEL HEBEY PASSES AWAY

Michael Hebey, a retired farmer, 87 years of age, and a native of Ireland, died this morning at his residence, 1227 Thirty-fourth street. He had been a resident of this city for the last thirty years and had been in California for half a century. He leaves a wife and several children children. He came here in the pioneer days and was associated in mining and other enterprises in the early days.

SCIENCE NOTES.

It was a strange thunderstorm that struck Suffold, England, August 4, 1577. According to Holinshed the tempest of lightning came through the wall of Billborough Church, went a yard into the ground, knocking over twenty people and killing two. Then it came up again, mounted the steeple by way of the vestry door, broke the bells and darted off to Bungay, six miles distant. There, according to another chronicler, it became a fiery black dog, which dashed between low people kneeling in church and broke their necks and clawed another man on the back so that he was "presently drawn together and shrunk up, as it were, a piece of leather scorched in a hot fire." Clawmarks remained on the door to prove the reality of the black dog.

A French engineer, M. de Lambert, has built a novel type of boat, which glides along the surface of the water by means of five inclined planes fixed on its bottom at certain distances. When the twelve-horse-power motor engine is started the inclined planes are raised and the boat soon glides upon a mixture of air and water until, as the resistance is diminished, it is reported to attain rapidly a speed of from twenty-six to twenty-eight knots, a speed which motor boats of eighty horse power cannot always reach.

According to Sir Frederick Treves, the well-known British surgeon, it was easy to distinguish the drinkers from the non-drinkers in the army of 30,000 men during the march to the relief of Ladysmith during the Boer war. Those who were the first to fall out were not the fat or the thin, the young or the old, or the short or the tall, but those who drank. So well marked was this fact that the drinkers could have been no more clearly distinguishable if they had worn placards on their backs.

PAUL JONES ON PIRACY.

"What! Paul Jones, the pirate!" must have been the shocked reflection of many an honest Briton on hearing that the United States was about to pay belated honors to the famous "renegade." He himself, by the way, rather neatly countered the English Government's denunciation of him as a pirate. He replied that he had looked in the dictionary and found a pirate defined as "an enemy of mankind," and "as England was then at war with the whole of America, the greater part of Europe and much of Asia, not to speak of a bit of Africa, she in point of fact came as near being the enemy of mankind as could well be conceived, and that England was therefore the pirate and not Paul Jones."—London Chronicle.

FACTS OF PRODUCTS OF ALAMEDA COUNTY

Horticultural Commissioners Say Law Asks for Something Which They Cannot Do.

The Supervisors of the county do not take the same view as to the ease with which statistical information may be obtained of the products and manufactured output of Alameda county as that entertained by Secretary Lindley of the State Board of Agriculture.

This was shown this morning when County Horticulturists William Barry of Niles, E. O. Webb of Haywards and Fred Seulberger of Oakland spoke upon the subject in meeting and declared that the work of gathering the statistics in question, which had been committed to them, was of such a character that they would not be able to perform it in a number of months.

DUTY OR NOT.

Supervisor Mitchell raised the question as to whether or not the work had to be done by the Board. If the Supervisors did not have to do the work, the matter could go over until next year.

Horticultural Commissioner Barry said that a law passed at the last session of the Legislature made it the duty of the Supervisors to gather the information in question.

Supervisor Rowe read the law on the subject and then the matter was referred to District Attorney Allen to ascertain whether or not the collection of data in question was obligatory upon the Supervisors. In which event, Chairman Mitchell said that it would have to be done and some attempt would be made at it this year.

BLANKS RETURNED.

This subject came before the Supervisors several weeks ago when Secretary Lindley of the State Board of Agriculture informed the Supervisors of the change in the law which requires the Supervisors to collect industrial, agricultural, horticultural, viticultural, and other statistics of the county and forward the same to the State Board of Agriculture to be incorporated into a report which will be placed in file in the office of that organization and distributed free applicants by the secretary.

Since then, blanks in which this information is to be recorded have arrived and have been distributed among the Horticultural Commissioners of the county mentioned, and, today, those blanks were returned by the recipients with the explanation that the Commissioners could not do the work required of them in months.

LINDLEY'S VIEWS.

Secretary Lindley's views on the subject are as follows:

"To secure this data in an economical and intelligent manner requires the services of intelligent men, interested in the welfare of their section of the State and county and with a practical knowledge of the industries of their particular locality.

"In counties of large area and sparsely settled we would suggest the selection of a man from each supervisorial district who knows the people and their occupations, each of these to send his report to the Board of Supervisors.

"In counties thickly settled, with good railroad facilities, one man could probably gather a complete report in the three months that intervenes from August 1, when blanks will be received by your board, to November 1, when the law directs that the report shall be in the hands of the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture."

BARRY'S STATEMENT.

Commissioner Barry acted as spokesman for the horticulturists. He said it would be impossible for them to do the work called for by the blanks in this county. At the suggestion of Supervisor Rowe he had consulted County Clerk Jack Cook on the subject and the latter had told him that it would cost $10,000 to get the desired information and would require twenty men to do the work. Theo Gier of the Portland Fair Commission of Alameda county had said practically the same thing.

Supervisor Rowe said he had been told by the commissioners that it would be impossible for them to get the information out at the present time.

Commissioner Barry said it would be impossible for them to get it out at any time. It would be good enough in Glenn county, where they wanted to sell land or where they wanted people to settle.

Theo Gier said that an approximate idea might be given of the county's resources this year, but such a statement as was desired would require an army of men. The work might be done by the Assessor, but where that official now employs one man he would, in doing the work have to employ two men. He advised that if the Supervisors could get out of doing the work this year it could be done next year by the Assessor.

Commissioner Barry said that reports were required on 358 products and outputs.

Theo Gier said that to collect the information required on wine alone would take three months.

The matter was finally referred to the District Attorney, in conjunction with the committee of the whole.

A WEST AFRICAN CITY.

Of Monrovia, the capital of Liberia, the "black republic," Sir Harry Johnston writes: "The population of Monrovia, so far as Americo-Liberians and foreigners are concerned, is about 2,500. It has a system of telephones which connects it with the settlements on the St. Paul's river. This has been set up and is well worked by a native Liberian. It is perhaps hardly necessary to remind you that Monrovia was named after the celebrated president of the United States. Monroe, who is responsible for that doctrine which inhibits any European nation from further conquests in the new world. The capital of Liberia is divided into two parts, the low and shoreward section being given over to large settlements of Kru boys and indigenous negroes, while the upper part of the town is inhabited by Americo-Liberians and European consuls and traders. This civilized part of the town is composed of broad grass-grown streets and substantial, well-built, comely-looking houses, churches, offices and public buildings.

"This smart appearance of the houses is in somewhat striking contrast to the neglected condition of the roads. These have never been made and are simply the unleveled rock of more or less flat surface. Consequently at the present time they are absolutely unsuited to any vehicle, though I have seen an enterprising Liberian negotiate them with a bicycle. They are generally covered with a very short, close turf of thickly growing plants, which is kept in the condition of turf by the constant nibbling of the pretty little cattle that frequent the streets of Monrovia. A less agreeable feature are the pigs, which exist in great numbers and perform the office of scavengers.

"While the houses are either very striking or comely both in form and color, this appearance is enhanced by the beautiful clumps of trees and the gardens which surround most of them. The Americo-Liberians seem to be very fond of flowers and have gardens full of roses, oleanders, allemandas, bougainvillia and fragipani in constant bloom. There are numerous churches and a Masonic hall."

CHURCH 144 YEARS OLD.

Old St. Peter's Church, at Third and Pine streets, was 144 years old Monday, having been opened to public worship on August 14, 1761. St. Peter's is one of the oldest Protestant Episcopal churches in this country. It still holds to the high box pews which were put in when it was built.

It was planned in 1753, and its erection began in 1758. Since its opening it has remained unchanged, and the ancient tiles that form the flooring are worn thin with the years of use they have seen. It was the first Episcopal church in this city to place a cross upon its spire, to recite the daily offices of the ritual, and to introduce the weekly eucharist.

Many notable persons have been buried in its graveyard, and among the statues therein is a handsome shaft erected to the memory of Stephen Decatur, who is interred there. The present rector is the Rev. W. M. Groto, who succeeded Bishop Neelson of Albany, N. Y.—Philadelphia dispatch to Chicago Inter-Ocean.

AUDITOR ASKS SUPERVISORS FOR INFORMATION

Cannot Furnish Estimate of Cost of County Without Knowledge of Intent of the Board.

Regarding the purpose of the Supervisors to fix a law tax-rate for the next fiscal year and their request upon County Auditor Bacon to furnish them with data, to enable them to effect such a change, the Auditor sent the following communication to the board, this morning, setting forth, among other things, that, before he can comply with the request of the board, he must himself be given information by that body:

"Oakland, Cal., August 26, 1905, to the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Alameda county. Gentlemen: At your meeting of August 21, 1905, your Honorable Body passed the following resolution:

"'Whereas, The Board of Supervisors, in fixing a tax-rate for the ensuing year, is desirous of making said rates as low as is compatible with good public service, and, in order to do so, it will be necessary that an estimate be furnished immediately by the Auditor of the necessary expenses for the running of the County Government for the ensuing year, which will give the Board of Supervisors an opportunity to examine into same in detail with all the officers of the county; therefore, be it

"'Resolved, That the County Auditor be requested to furnish said estimate to be presented to the board on next Monday morning, August 28, 1905.'

FAVORS LOW TAX-RATE.

"I heartily agree with you that a low tax-rate is desirable, considering it not only compatible with good service but necessary for the welfare and advancement of our county that the tax-payers be relieved by the fixing of a much lower rate than that which has obtained for the last two years.

AS TO EXPENDITURES.

"However, in order to intelligently advise you by such an estimate as you request, I would have to be informed as to the intentions of your Honorable Body in regard to proposed improvements and the amounts you intend to expend on the same; the amounts you intend to expend in the conducting and maintaining the different county institutions and buildings; the probable amount required for supplies to indigents; the amount you will require from the County General Fund for sprinkling, bridge-building, etc., in the several road districts; the amounts required by the different officials, exclusive of statutory salaries, for the conduct of their offices.

WHEN INFORMATION WILL COME.

"After receiving the above information (judging by the time allowed the Oakland City Auditor by the charter to prepare his budget after receiving the estimates from the different departments) I can furnish the estimate you request in four weeks' time. As this, however, would be too late for you to use the estimate as a basis in fixing this year's rate, I will co-operate with you and give you any assistance I can to secure a low rate for the ensuing year. Yours respectfully,

"G. W. BACON,
"Auditor Alameda County."

The communication was filed.

WANT FRANCHISE FOR ALAMEDA

APPLICATION IS MADE TO THE TRUSTEES OF ALAMEDA.

ALAMEDA, August 28.—An application for a telephone franchise in the city of Alameda was received this morning by City Clerk J. W. Gillogly from P. Kerr Higgins of 203 Frost building, Los Angeles. Accompanying the application was a personal letter from Frost, in which he stated that his proposition was bona fide, and that whatever amendments were necessary to be made to the application would be seen to. A franchise of fifty years for the operation of the telephone system is asked for.

The usual guaranty is made in the application, and the city is offered a percentage of 2 per cent of the gross annual earnings of the company after it has been established for a period of five years. An up-to-date service is promised and the city of Alameda is to be given five telephones free and is to have the free use of the telephone poles of the company for its telegraph or fire alarm wires. In the proposition there is a guaranty that the grantee of the franchise will expend $50,000 within two years. Upon the granting of the franchise the grantee is to put up a bond of $1,000, and then put up another bond of $1,000 within five days, to be forfeited if the contract is not carried out. It is also specified that the violation of the contracts shall work a forfeiture of the franchise.

JOHN C. WHIPPLE IS DEAD

PIONEER RESIDENT OF ALAMEDA COUNTY PASSES AWAY.

John C. Whipple, one of the pioneer residents of Alameda county died at his home near Decoto, Saturday last.

The deceased was in his eighty-fourth year. He was a native of Rochester, New York, and came to this county with his parents when he was but a lad. The family settled in this county in the vicinity of Decoto, securing possession of a large amount of land which it has mainly kept in its control ever since. The deceased was quite successful in the following of his calling as farmer. He made his home with several sisters who survive him and who also never married. The deceased was a brother of Edward Whipple also of Decoto who survives him.

The funeral took place this afternoon and was attended by people from all the neighboring towns. Interment was in Decoto cemetery.

OLD LOVE LETTERS WANTED AND NO QUESTIONS ASKED.

"Literary man wants to buy or borrow old love letters; no names used." This cold-blooded advertisement has appeared in the Sydney Morning Herald. What does he want them for? Presumably he is writing an amatory novel, and wants the palpitating reality. The records of Australian breach of promise cases would furnish him with an abundance of material, but perhaps he is anxious to have his love letters absolutely fresh. No wtice-cooked omelettes for him.—London Chronicle.

WILL INSPECT THE EXHIBIT AT PORTLAND

Supervisors Mitchell and Talcott Will Officially Visit the Lewis & Clark Fair.

Messrs. Theodore Gier and Wilber Walker went before the Supervisors in executive session this morning, and asked to have some representative of the Board visit the exhibit prepared by them and Mr. Wellbye, in behalf of Alameda county and report as to what had been done with the money which had been appropriated to them as Commissioners to get up an exhibit of Alameda county's products at the Lewis & Clark Exposition.

They declared that Alameda county was the only county which, thus far, had not sent some person to the Fair to inspect the exhibit.

No action was taken at the time on the suggestion, but when the Supervisors reassembled in open session, Supervisor Rowe, after making a statement similar to that outlined, moved that a committee of two Supervisors, comprising Chairman Mitchell and Mr. Talcott, visit the Fair in question and report, upon their return, the condition and completeness of the exhibit there of Alameda county. The motion prevailed and the Supervisors in question were granted a leave of absence for sixty days, with permission to leave the State.

THE FARMER'S DAUGHTER.

He was a lad of high degree;
She was a farmer's daughter,
He came to fish the silver ley;
Or did he come to court her?
"Oh, angle where you will,"
quoth she;
The little trout may swim to thee:
But never think that you'll catch me."

Yet where was there fair maiden born
But felt her heart beat higher
To see a lordling look forlorn
And beg to come anigh her?
"Stray nearer if you must,"
quoth she,
"Since 'tis an act of charity;
But never try to speak to me."

The woodland ways are sweet and green
Under the summer weather,
And through the dingle, through the dene,
Go boy and girl together.
"You held my hand, because,"
quoth she,
"The stepping-stones were slippery;
But now I'm over, let it be."

A heart to burns, a breast that sighs,
Red lips with promise laden;
A pleading voice and bright-brown eyes—
Alas, my pretty maiden!
"Can such a king of men," quoth she,
"Look down to wed a girl like me?
Then will I trust my sown to thee!"

She sits amid the yellow sheaves,
That little farmer's daughter,
Or counts the scarlet cherry leaves
Fall on the shining water.
"Red leaves and river deep,"
quoth she,
"Come, hide by tear-worn heart, for he
Hath broken and forgotten me."

NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM IN GRAND RAPIDS

Councilman Meese Examined Into How It Works and Declares It Ahead of Anything He Has Yet Seen.

Merchants and Leading Citizens Favor Granting the Franchise to New Company.

The proposal of the Home Telephone Company of Alameda county to install an automatic service in Oakland is arousing wide public interest. The terms on which the company is willing to take the franchise are so advantageous to the public that a strong sentiment is rapidly growing in favor of the Council granting the franchise.

The company is not asking either favors or financial support, but only wants the right to do business here under conditions which insure full protection to the public interests. It proposes to break ground inside of four months after the franchise is granted, and to expend $850,000 within three years; to put its wires underground at once and pay two per cent of its gross receipts into the city treasury. The willingness to agree to these conditions has provoked favorable comment. The character of the service it is proposed to install is also dwelt upon with satisfaction. People are tired out beating their phones and bellowing for Central.

The stronger automatic telephone will be the one used. Over 20,000 of these phones are now in use in Los Angeles, which city is very partial to their use. If the people succeed in getting a franchise in Oakland they propose to install an extensive suburban system for the surrounding country. Many of the merchants see in this a good opening for business.

SPLENDID SAYS COUNCILMAN MEESE.

"When I was in Grand Rapids, Michigan, last June, I had occasion to examine into the workings of the automatic telephone service in use in that city," said Councilman Edwin Meese. "It worked splendidly.

"I understand it is the same system it is proposed to install in Oakland, though of that I cannot speak from personal knowledge. I do know, however, that the automatic telephone service in use in Grand Rapids is an admirable one, particularly with regard to expedition and accuracy. All you had to do was to ring up on your own phone the number you wanted, and the answer came back promptly from the person. There was no ringing up Central and giving the number to be called and waiting for Central to connect you. Neither was there any cutting off by other parties wanting the line, nor any of the exasperating interruptions so common on the party lines of manual systems.

"I visited the office of the telephone superintendent of the Grand Rapids telephone company with my brother-in-law, and I was given an opportunity to examine into the workings of the system. All that came under my observation pleased me, but I did not see as much as I desired because it was Sunday and only the assistant superintendent was there. There was a perfect willingness to show me all I wanted to see, but I lacked the time and the right opportunity to examine into everything.

"However, I can say I found the automatic system very popular in Grand Rapids. Every person I heard speak of it said it was superior to the manual system. One of its strong points is that no one can interrupt two persons talking or overhear what they say. So far as my opportunities for observation went, I must say I was much impressed with the automatic system. It looks good to me."

A. M. SALINGER.

A. M. Salinger, president of Salinger's Clothing Company, 1015 Washington street—By all means let us have a competing telephone company here. We need one to awaken the present company from its stupor. Aside from the advantages offered by the improved system of the automatic phones there is a distinct advantage to a community in preventing a monopoly.

This is well exemplified by our railroads. Where a city is entered by only one line that line takes advantage of its position by giving a poorer service and poorer accommodations to its patrons than it does in cities where a competing line enters.

The same principle applies to telephone companies and for that reason I favor a competing company. The virtues of such conditions are apparent in many Eastern cities where I have been and will become potent here when another company puts in a good system.

S. MEYER.

S. Meyer, manager of Salinger's Clothing House, 1015 Washington street—I am very glad to see that another telephone company wants to begin operations in this city. It is something I have been hoping for and I shall certainly endorse the proposition. I want them to get a franchise, because I hope to see them install their system.

Some merchants complain that two companies will necessitate the expense of two telephones to assure a complete system. Even if that be true, the natural competition which the rival companies will give each other will bring the rates low enough that the expense of having both phones will not be greater than one now costs.

J. N. BONHAM.

J. N. Bonham, plumber, 950 Broadway—The automatic system which the Home Telephone Company propose to institute appeals to me as a first-class proposition. From what I can see of its work I believe it is the coming system. Other cities are using it, which seems good evidence of its quality, and there is no reason why Oakland should be behind the times.

As a time-saver alone it is very desirable. The mere fact that one can make his own connection without waiting on a girl, and is sure of keeping his connection until he is ready to stop talking, ought to bring it into instant favor. In granting this franchise the city has nothing to lose and the people will be benefited very materially.

W. F. KROLL.

W. F. Kroll, of Koenig and Kroll, real estate agents, 878 Broadway—Anything that brings competition into business will be endorsed by me. I like competition. If a franchise is granted to the Home Telephone Company to install the automatic system here, it would not only give us the privilege of its service, but would undoubtedly improve the service of the old company. I am in favor of giving them a franchise and I hope the City Council will do so.

LOUIS SHAFFER.

Louis Shaffer, liveryman, 870 Broadway—There is no question in my mind that a competitive telephone company would improve the telephone service in this city. Competition always stimulates business and for that reason I would favor the coming of the automatic company. I think the company should be granted a franchise to begin business immediately.

GEORGE M. SHAW.

George M. Shaw, attorney-at-law, 959 Broadway—Without any question the Home Telephone Company should be granted a franchise to do business in this city. Competition not only will regulate the price, but will also regulate the service and improve it. The only possible objection to the new telephone is that an office will have to maintain two telephones.

W. S. HARLOW.

W. S. Harlow, real estate, 950 Broadway—It would be a very unwise thing for the City Council to refuse to grant the Home Telephone Company a franchise. Oakland needs another system. The competition will regulate telephonic matters as they should be regulated. I understand the Home Telephone Company is a success in other places and there is no reason why it should not be successful here.

ALBERT BROWN.

Albert Brown, 572 Thirteenth street—A new system cannot be installed too quickly. It will correct the lax system that we now have here and will give the public a prompt service. Competition is a good thing and there is no reason why the present company should be allowed a monopoly. The Home Telephone Company has made an offer in good faith and the Council should grant them a franchise at once.

A. P. LEACH.

A. P. Leach, Prosecuting Attorney—The quicker a franchise is granted the new telephone company the sooner will the needs of the public be served. Competition is a good thing and there seems to be no possible way the public can suffer and there are apparently many benefits to be derived. If the Home Telephone Company or any other legitimate company wants a franchise give it.

MAX MARCUSE.

Max Marcuse, attorney-at-law, 918 Broadway—Just quote me as being in favor of the new company. If they promise to install a good system I am in favor of giving them a franchise. Competition will do more toward improving our telephone service than anything else I can think of.

A. BLUMENTHAL.

A. Blumenthal, proprietor of the Silver Front Clothing House, 1051 Washington street—Two telephone companies will be a good thing for this city. In Portland they have three and the service there by all companies is excellent, much better than anything we have in this region.

I think Oakland ought to extend this franchise to the new telephone company to get in line with other up-to-date cities. There is no excuse for us to lag years and years behind in this matter. I certainly heartily endorse the project of the new company.

MEYER LEVY.

Meyer Levy, jeweler, 860 Broadway—I am in favor of another telephone company in Oakland because I believe in competition—it's the life of trade. Furthermore, an automatic system appeals to me as being superior to the old fashion. It would be a great time saver by giving immediate connections and save one's nerves to a considerable extent.

CHARLES J. RALEIGH.

Charles J. Raleigh, insurance, 950 Broadway—I am in favor of a competitive telephone company, providing their intention to install a system is sincere. Their presence in the city and competition with the old company would naturally improve the entire telephone facilities here. I think they should, by all means, be given the privilege of a franchise.

R. H. MAGILL.

R. M. Magill, insurance, 916 Broadway—The Home Telephone people certainly deserve to be given a franchise by this city. I believe in competition and for that reason alone the new company would be a good thing for Oakland. It would not seriously injure the other company because this city is large enough to support two. I am most emphatically in favor of granting a franchise to the Home Company.

J. F. YOUNG.

J. F. Young, jeweler, 916 Broadway—There is no doubt whatever that our telephone facilities would be greatly improved by the coming of a rival company. When one company has a monopoly in a city it generally uses this as a lever for securing patronage despite unsatisfactory service. A new company would give patrons a choice in the matter and make the service of both companies better. The city can lose nothing in granting a franchise and will gain a whole lot.

T. A. WHITE.

T. A. White, real estate agent, 878 Broadway—Another telephone company doing business in this town I think would be a good thing. I believe it would improve the service of the old company and have a tendency to keep the rates moderate. Two companies, when in competition, would give us a much better service than one company that holds a monopoly of the service.

EUGENE MERCIER.

Eugene Mercier, liquor merchant, 874 Broadway—Let us have this new telephone company in this city by all means. It will be a good thing for the people and a good thing for the old company. Competition is the life of trade and competition would put new life in the Pacific Telephone Company. I think a new company here would improve matters in every way and harm no one. I am very much in favor of the automatic system being instituted here.

RICHARD FLIELER.

Richard Flieler, barber, 872 Broadway—The sooner we get another telephone company to institute a system in Oakland the better it will please me. It seems to me that this city is large enough for three companies and another company would improve our telephone service a great deal. Two companies in a town always give better satisfaction than one, because they must then make a bid for patronage and offer good service or reduced rates as an inducement.

W. H. BUHOLZ.

W. H. Buholz, vice-president Central Bank—While I have not thoroughly investigated the merits of the Home Telephone Company, I am inclined to think that legitimate competition will produce beneficial results, particularly in the way of improved service. There, of course, would be a certain amount of capital come with the new telephone company. I prefer to reserve my final judgment in the matter of endorsing the Home Telephone Company until I am more competent to judge, but from the present indications I think it will be a benefit.

WILBER WALKER.

Wilber Walker, secretary of Merchants' Exchange—I will withhold my judgment until after Tuesday night, at which time both the Home Telephone Company and the present company will present their respective merits before the Merchants' Exchange.

FRED WHITNEY.

Frederick E. Whitney, attorney, 921 Broadway—Every one of us has more or less complaint to find with the present telephone system. If this invention now in the hands of the Home Telephone Company, is what is claimed for it, it will be a good thing for the people to have it placed in operation here, and the City Council should allow the company to enter the field. As soon as I see that it does what is claimed for it I shall be very happy to have one of the new phones.

JOHN S. DE LANCY.

John S. DeLancy, Att'y., Union Savings Bank Bldg., Broadway—I say give the new company a chance. Anything that will make telephoning easier recommends itself to me. The City Council of Oakland should be big enough to need no urging in such a matter. The competition is bound to result in a better service than we have at the present time, and if the Home Telephone Company's system works like I have heard that it will, it is just what we need.

J. J. MEDROS.

Jos. J. Medros, physician, 473 Fourteenth street—I have seen the Home Telephone Company's instruments work in Los Angeles, and they are very satisfactory. I believe the City Council should give it the franchise necessary to allow it to install a plant here. Two companies handle the business easier than one, and it results in breaking the monopoly and an effort on the part of both to please.

T. M. BRADLEY.

T. M. Bradley, attorney, 906 Broadway—Any company that has a legitimate proposition should be given a chance. What I have heard of the Home Telephone Company and its scheme to do away with the annoyance necessarily incident to the present system, makes me hope that it is a success. Let the City Council give it the opportunity to demonstrate what it can do at any rate. It is a step in the right direction.

JOHN J. BURKE.

John J. Burke, attorney, 906 Broadway—While a friend of the old company, with which I have no fault to find, I believe a second system to be a good thing. In Los Angeles and Seattle they have two companies and it results in a greater number of subscribers and the field is thus better covered. One company offers better inducements than the other and they get a subscriber where the other could not. In this way business men, who generally have to have both phones, get access through their instruments to a much larger number of people. Besides this, both companies do their utmost to please. For this reason, I believe that the City Council will not go wrong in granting the Home Telephone Company a franchise.

W. B. RINEHART.

W. B. Rinehart, attorney, 1004 Broadway—I have examined the instruments of the Home Telephone Company, and the demonstration to me was very satisfactory. I believe that the new company should be given every assistance. It will aid in the elimination of much of the annoyance of the present system or if it fail in this, it will probably result in spurring up the old company to renewed effort and even this will result in good to the city.

GEORGE W. PEZET.

George W. Pezet, 904 Broadway—By all means give the new telephone company a franchise to install a telephone system. It will improve the present service and will give the public more satisfaction. It will be a great thing for Oakland.

EDWARD PLANER.

Edward Planer, secretary Board of Health—A new telephone company will do much for the local service. I am heartily in favor of having the new company here and would grant them a franchise without delay. The new telephone company will bring competition and good results.

E. B. MEEK.

E. B. Meek, 680 Twenty-third street—With the advent of a new telephone company in this city we will get better service and that is the thing sought for. There is room enough for two companies and the City Council should encourage the competition. The double system has worked well in other parts of the State and has brought with it benefits. There is no good reason why Oakland should not get these benefits also.

W. J. HENNESSY.

W. J. Hennessy, clerk of Police Court—If the Home Telephone Company wants a franchise to operate a telephone system here give the company what it asks for. The public never suffered through competition and if there are any good results to be obtained let us have them. The installation of a new system will result in keen competition and bring correspondingly good service.

E. P. COOK.

E. P. Cook, real estate, 503 Fourteenth street—By all means grant the new company a franchise. The City Council should lose no time in granting the application now on file. We need better service and the only way we can get it is to have a new company here.

INSPECTOR CONNOLLY.

License Inspector Connolly—There does not seem to be any good reason why the Home Telephone Company should not be granted a franchise to begin business at once. We need a new company and here is the chance to get it. In my opinion the City Council should act with dispatch and permit the new company to be installed at once.

THOMAS MORAN.

Thomas Moran, capitalist, 917 Eighth street—Always in favor of legitimate competition, I am emphatically in favor of granting a franchise to the Home Telephone Company. As I understand it, the system is not an experiment, but an established fact.

It is my belief that the City Council would do the people an injustice if it refused the new company a franchise.

W. E. DEAN.

W. E. Dean, collector, 969 Broadway—Too much cannot be said in favor of a competing telephone system and we are one of the first to order the new 'phone. There should be a competing company in Oakland, just as there is in Los Angeles and other cities and the City Council could not afford to refuse the necessary franchise.

I think the Home Company is a stable enterprise and that it will be supported by the citizens of Oakland. Nothing should be put in the way of a legitimate enterprise such as this.

GEORGE VOSE.

George Vose, real estate, 972 Broadway—I am certainly in favor of granting a franchise to the Home Telephone Company, because I have one of the test 'phones in my office and know how it works. There are four movements to get a number and they can be done in a surprisingly short time. You take down the receiver, turn a lever, put your indicator on the number desired, ring the bell and begin talking. There are no delays. If there is a mistake in the number, it is your own. There is no buzzer and no answer of "Line's busy, call again." If the line is really busy, a buzzer notifies you of that fact. The new 'phone is so simple that a child could work it, and it is entirely satisfactory.

J. T. COCHRAN.

J. T. Cochran, contractor, 479 Claremont Avenue—Under no circumstances should the City Council refuse to grant a franchise to the new telephone company. As I understand it the new company will pay two per cent of its gross earnings to the city and furnish city officials with free telephones for the transaction of public business. This means much to Oakland, as the city needs more money for public purposes. I believe that the franchise will be granted.

J. L. CHAMPLIN.

J. L. Champlin, insurance, 460 Tenth street—I am in favor of the new telephone company being granted, a franchise, because I believe in progress. All progressive cities are granting such franchises because progress depends upon competition.

DAVID F. SELBY.

David F. Selby, of Selby Brothers' Candy Store, 1057 Washington street—I am in favor of the automatic telephone system. I think it will soon be universally used in place of the old style. The improvement in making quick connections and keeping a connection when made, certainly recommends itself to anyone who has suffered the annoyances of our present method. I sincerely hope the franchise will be granted to this new company.

W. E. BROWN.

W. E. Brown, real estate dealer, 948 Broadway—I would freely endorse the project of securing a rival telephone company. It would stimulate, undoubtedly, the old company into improving their service, and the competition would result in much better accommodations for the people. Competition is a good thing, especially in the telephone business, and the benefit all falls to the people. I favor the giving of a franchise to the Home Company.

S. D. PIPHER.

S. D. Pipher, deputy sheriff, 970 Twenty-sixth avenue—I am in favor of an opposition company, because I believe it will be the means of improvement in present conditions. Competition means better service and everybody knows that we need that. There is nothing for the City Council to do but grant the franchise.

ALWIN SPRINGER.

Alwin Springer, merchant, 1365 Market street—There should be no hesitation on the part of the City Council in granting the franchise to the new company and as soon as that franchise is granted I shall become one of the subscribers. Competing systems are good in every line of business, but this is especially so in the case of the telephone. I, for one, shall make a personal appeal to the City Council to give the new company a franchise to conduct its business.

P. W. STONE.

P. W. Stone, cigar dealer, 827 Grove street—It seems to me that there can be but one opinion on this question. A competing telephone system is an absolute necessity and the entire city should demand it. So long as the Home Telephone Company is acting in good faith and will not sell out to the older corporation it should be supported by every citizen who has the welfare of the city at heart.

E. G. BUSWELL JR.

E. G. Buswell Jr., merchant, 902 Broadway—It would be foolhardy for the City Council to refuse the application of the Home Telephone Company for a franchise here. The interests of the city demand that the franchise be granted without delay.

MORRIS HAPP.

Morris Happ, Oakland Renovatory, 428 Ninth street—As soon as the new telephone company has installed its plant I shall become a subscriber. I don't think there is any doubt about the franchise being granted. The City Council knows what the citizens demand and will accede to their wishes. A competing system is an absolute necessity.

E. C. PRATHER.

E. C. Prather, County Surveyor—Competition means business, and, naturally, the more competition, the more business. I therefore think that the franchise prayed for by the Home Telephone Company should be granted and that it should be done without any delay. Competing systems in any line of public utilities are a good thing for any city.

THEODORE MUHR.

Theodore Muhr, merchant, 1214 Twelfth Avenue—I am in favor of the City Council granting the new telephone company a franchise, for it is an indubitable fact that competition would mean a betterment of the present service. Let the Council do its duty in granting the franchise and the public will be well pleased.

E. C. SESSIONS.

E. C. Sessions, real estate, 422 Tenth street—I think the Home Telephone Company should be granted a franchise. I am heartily in favor of having a competing system and shall support it.

GEORGE E. DARLING.

George E. Darling, merchant, Fruitvale—The City Council could not think of denying a franchise to the new telephone company. That system has been tried in other cities and has been found to be successful. In Los Angeles it is in operation and is satisfactory to all subscribers. To deny the application would be an injustice to the citizens and tax-payers.

BEACH DEAN.

Beach Dean, collector, 969 Broadway—You can't make it too strong for me. Let the competing company come in, by all means. The benefit to the city that the new company could give can hardly be estimated. It is my belief that the City Council will grant the franchise.

EDWARD BEAUDRY.

Edward Beaudry, undertaker, 873 Washington street—Say for me that I would welcome competition in every line, because I believe it is a benefit to every city. A new telephone system would be an inestimable benefit to Oakland. The City Council would be foolhardy not to grant this franchise.

YOUTH TELLS OF KISSES

at a French restaurant on Pine street in San Francisco, but which Welch stated was only accidental, and that there was nothing out of the way occurred. Mrs. Wilson, he said, had come from Raymond to see an attorney in San Francisco in regard to her divorce proceedings and Welch met her on the boat going from the mole to San Francisco. She told him of her errand and Welch said that he would go with her. He waited until her engagement with the attorney was finished and they left the office together. Welch suggested getting something to eat, saying that he was hungry, and at first she refused to go to a restaurant with him, but finally consented. They went down to Pine street to a French restaurant, and the downstairs being full, they went into a private room.

This Bedroom Set
Worth $25, Sale Price $16.50

Think of it! Sixteen dollars and fifty cents. Three pieces and made of hard selected elm with a golden finish. Is there a woman in Alameda county who can use a bedroom set who can afford to overlook this value?

This $35 Bedroom Set
Sale Price..... $21.50

Of solid oak; as staunch and firm and durable as can be. A really pretty set at a price so far out of proportion to its worth that it seems ridiculous to quote it. The bed is 6 feet 4 inches high and is full double size. The mirror in dresser is unusually large and the drawers good and roomy. Remember you won't have to pay only a little down on this and the rest at a little a week or month..... While they last—each $21.50

A SIMILAR SET—But a little more elaborate although not any more durable, will be offered for..... each $23.00

Here's a Good Suggestion

If you have a vacant room why don't you come in here and get enough furniture and carpets to fix it up and then rent it to some nice young man or girl. You can get enough from the rent to easily pay for the furniture. Ten dollars down will buy all you need. OR IF you are living in a furnished room, why don't you fix up your own room and rent it unfurnished. What's the use of paying other people for the use of their furniture? Think this over.

FUNERAL OF LATE M. W. HOLMES

MANY FLORAL PIECES WERE SENT BY FRIENDS OF DECEASED.

The funeral of Melville W. Holmes, late assistant superintendent of streets, was held from the family residence, 412 Hawthorne street, yesterday afternoon. The services were simple and in accordance with the life of the deceased. There were two services, one conducted by the Oak Leaf Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the other by the Rev. C. Makin, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Many friends of the deceased were in attendance and paid their last mark of respect to a man who by his honesty and sterling qualities had made enduring friends. There was a wealth of floral offerings sent to the family residence. Among them were many pieces of exquisite beauty.

After the services at the house by the Workmen the Rev. Makin read the solemn and impressive Episcopalian ritual.

The funeral cortege then moved to Mountain View Cemetery, where all that was mortal was laid in its last resting place. The interment was private. Brief services were held at the grave.

PARIS AWAITS THE WORD

Diplomats Believe That Both Sides Want Peace.

PARIS, August 28.—The diplomats and officials today in discussing the prospects of peace at Portsmouth, displayed evident anxiety. Nevertheless there was an impression that an agreeable surprise awaits the world when the critical moment arrives for envoys to give their final answer for peace or war. Both of the belligerents are considered to be desirous of peace, even at the expense of sacrifices.

The signature of the amended alliance between Great Britain and Japan three weeks ago is regarded as largely governing Japan's attitude relative to concessions.

The exact terms of the new treaty are not known here, but the diplomats are aware that some of the clauses of the original treaty have been greatly modified and that others have been extended. It is considered probable that Great Britain before signing insisted that hostilities be concluded as soon as possible, and this pressure on Japan causes Russia to hold out with the hope of securing further relaxation of Japan's conditions.

On the Bourse the feeling was somewhat shaken as the result of contradictory reports from Portsmouth and St. Petersburg, but hope still prevailed that the result of this conference would be satisfactory.

HE DID NOT GET THE CHANGE

Joseph Giuer, a saloon man, whose place of business is at 551 Franklin street, reports to police headquarters that last Saturday night he gave Dan Canfield, a locomotive engineer, two $20 gold pieces to change, and that since then that he has not seen either the change or Canfield.

CROWHURST IN REPLY

DENIES THE CHARGES MADE BY PEMBROKE'S FATHER.

In answer to a statement published yesterday by S. J. Pembroke, father of one of the lads now in the County Jail charged with the murder of Thomas Cook at Fruitvale, as the result of being knocked down for the purpose of robbery, the following communication has been given out by James Crowhurst, charged with being the ringleader of the gang:

"Having noticed an article in a San Francisco paper from S. J. Pembroke, father of Percy Pembroke, claiming that I was in Mrs. Kanauer's store in company with Percy Pembroke when she gave him a $20 piece taken from a sack containing $500 to get change at the bank, and that I afterward attempted to burglarize Mrs. Kanauer's store; that on Saturday, the day of the murder of Tom Cook I went to Pembroke's house in company with Jack Schneider and George Blaker and there met Percy Pembroke, I absolutely deny the statement and can prove that it is not the truth.

"In the first place, I have never been in Mrs. Kanauer's store. In the next place, I had not seen Percy Pembroke prior to his arrest on July 4, and he was arrested on July 25, which Percy himself has stated and of which I have ample proof; so it would be impossible for me to have been implicated in any way in regard to the alleged attempted burglary of Mrs. Kanauer's store and also of meeting Percy at his house on the Saturday of the murder, according to the statements of Mr. Pembroke.

"In regard to the statement that Percy Pembroke stood in fear of me: I will state that Percy Pembroke proposed to me the first job I was ever connected with in any way. About the 1st of October Percy Pembroke asked me to assist him in holding up a party who would that evening sell a diamond to Percy Pembroke's brother and would later walk from Pembroke's home to his own wth the money, amounting to $200. That was the very first I ever thought of doing such a thing.

"I hold no personal feeling against Mr. Pembroke or his son, but in justice to myself, my relatives and friends, I answer these false statements that Mr. Pembroke has made against me.

"I fully realize my wrongs of the past and sincerely wish I could live over those three months of my life, which were the start and finish of my criminal career. I shall be very glad when this is over with and I can prove myself a man.

"JAMES CROWHURST."

YOUNG MAN HAD THE SULKS

LOCKED HIMSELF IN A ROOM AT HIS RESIDENCE

Nelson Burdette, an eighteen-year-old colored boy, who resides with his parents at 961 Fortieth street, has got a very bad case of the "sulks." He has barricaded himself in a room and refuses to commune with his anxious parents. The state of affairs became so critical this morning that word was sent to the police department for an officer to assist the young man in getting over the sulks, and removing the barricade in his room.

Policeman Woods responded to this call, but when he arrived at the scene it was discovered that the house was in Emeryville, and that the peace officer had no right to interfere.

Nelson was still sulking when Policeman Woods left. Just how long it will take for the young man to be starved out is a question. He has been there thirty-six hours now, and gives no indication that he wishes to communicate with the outside world.

SHE DID NOT KEEP HER PLEDGE

She will appear before Judge Samuels tomorrow morning and will probably get a severe sentence as his honor told her if she came back that she might expect to be sent to jail for six months.

BATTLE IN WATER

Two Boys Have a Desperate Encounter With a Shark.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Racing through the waters of the bay at express speed in tow of a shark this forenoon George Hafer and Dan O'Connors, two fifteen-year old boys, pluckily hung to their dangerous steed while the flying spray ploughed up in their mad rush filled their boat. They were seen struggling in the water off the Pacific Mail dock by James Cunningham, a launchman, who put out to their assistance with all speed. When he arrived at the scene of the battle for life between the boys and the shark they were half drowned but game still hung to the line at the other end of which the shark was making powerful rushes for freedom. With Cunningham's help the shark was towed in to the dock and landed.

The boys took a boat early this forenoon and went out to fish for halibut. This much esteemed fish is taken with line and hook on the bottom of the bay. But the bait is also in reach of the ground shark, which resembles the halibut in many ways but is commonly larger and a fierce fighter when hooked. It was one of these fellows that came so near winding up the careers of the two ambitious young boatmen.

George Hafer told the story of the boys' thrilling experience. He said: "I was holding the line, when there came a big jerk as though there was a mule on the other end. Then the line slackened a minute and I yelled 'shark' and scrambled into the bow of the boat so he couldn't upset us. Then there came another big yank, and we started through the water like anything. I never traveled so fast. The water came in over the bow on account of his pulling the boat low down in front. We spread a wave on both sides like a ferry-boat and the spray flew all over me. Let go? Not much. I was bound to land him if he drowned me, and he came pretty near it. He was making for the head of the mail dock and I expected he would run us into the wharf. But the boat sank under us and we had to hang on to the sides. There was one thing sure, we couldn't get any wetter than we were, so we hung on to the line, thinking some one would see us. It was quite a while before we saw a launch coming, but we were soon aboard and Cunningham brought us in. The shark had to come along, too. He wasn't so gay by that time, after pulling that boat around the way he did. If he was a halibut he would be worth a lot of money."

The shark was brought ashore and is being exhibited by his captors, who were warmly congratulated on their showing of pluck at the risk of their lives.

TAGGART CASE IN PROGRESS

WOOSTER, Ohio, Aug. 28.—Wm. Taggart, cousin of Captain Taggart, was again called to the stand for examination in the Taggart divorce trial today. He was asked many questions by Attorney Sterling. His replies were generally indefinite, or evasive. The object of the attorney was evidently to show that the witness had received money from Mrs. Taggart.

Asked if it was not a fact that he received on May 31, 1900, a New York draft from Mrs. Taggart, he said: "No, sir."

He insisted that he had not received another draft on the same day from Mrs. Taggart, but finally explained that he did get two drafts amounting to $200 about this time, that the drafts came from Mr. Hurlbert of Chicago. Mrs. Taggart's financial agent, and that he had received the money to pay bills Mrs. Taggart owed in Oroville. He was asked if Mrs. Taggart was not fond of him at this time and he did not think a great deal of her.

"I think not," was his answer.

SAYS HE STOLE $10,000

PENDLETON, Or., August 28.—C. P. Davis, former chief deputy in the Sheriff's office, was arrested today on the charge of larceny of $10,000 on complaint of Sheriff Taylor and William Baleley. Davis returned yesterday from Portland and said on his return he would fight the case.

MERCHANDISE IS SENT TO CHINA

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.—Shipments of freight to China by the steamship Mongolia which sailed today did not show any effect of the boycott of American goods in the Orient. The vessel carried 12,000 tons of merchandise including 1,180 tons of flour for Hong Kong and 15,000 bales of cotton domestics for Shanghai.

CHINESE ENDEAVOR TO STOP BOYCOTT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Consul General Rogers at Shanghai has cabled to the State Department under today's date as follows:

"While the boycott still continues, there is no disturbance and the Chinese officials are endeavoring to suppress the movement. On the whole conditions appear more hopeful."

SAN JOSE, Aug. 28.—The local office of the Southern Pacific announces a special rate of 35 cents per 100 pounds on green apples from San Jose, on minimum lots of fifteen tons, and other main line points of the coast division to all Missouri River points south of Sioux City, Iowa, including Omaha and Kansas City. To Texas and Indian Territory points an intermediary rate will be made in a few days.

BUSY DAYS FOR SCOTT

Millionaire of Death Valley Goes to Live at the Palace.

SAN FRANCISCO August 28.—Walter Scott of Death Valley has changed his hotel.

This morning he registered at the Palace, and after he put his name on the register he went to the grill, ordered a quart of champagne and some breakfast and then straight to bed.

He said that he was going to move around and learn from experience the best place to live.

Perhaps the number of postal cards and letters that Scotty has been receiving at the St. Francis had something to do with his determination to make a change.

Mr. Scott's box at the St. Francis has been kept full of mail.

At first the millionaire from Death Valley opened his letters and read the communications at the desk. Later on he pushed them into the capacious pockets of his coat and perused them at his leisure in the seclusion of his room.

Scotty has a sense of humor, but the efforts of our local writers did not tickle his fancy.

One postal that was sent him said to the effect:

"Scotty instead of your four flushing around and buying railroad trains and hotels why don't you come downn to the waterfront and buy the boys some steam beer?"

The signatures that were appended to this effusion were all Micks and Pats.

Scotty received another missive purporting to have come from John D. Rockefeller and begged him to meet the writer on the left hand bench at the entrance to the park.

There was also a postal in a hand which was essentially feminine and it read thus:

"Dear Scotty: I saw you on Market street today and your nose was bleeding and my heart also bleeds for you. You are a dear. Mamie."

Scotty receives about twenty-five of these letters in a morning and the Croesus of Death Valley is of the opinion that some one or another is trying to take a rise out of him.

How long he is going to stay in town is still unknown to him.

Mr. Scott is expecting Mrs. Scott and then he will open negotiations with the Southern Pacific for a record-breaking train to Chicago.

GIRL IS INJURED

Knocked Down While Riding a Wheel in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.—Ida Jackson, the pretty twenty-year-old daughter of W. G. Jackson of 415 J street in the Sunset district, was knocked from her bicycle this morning about 8 o'clock and now lies in the Central Emergency Hospital with a deeply lacerated wound over her right eye and a punctured ear.

Miss Jackson, who is employed in the Standard Shirt Company, was proceeding down Golden Gate avenue on her wheel on her way to work and when near the corner of Octavia saw two wagons approach, one on the wrong side of the street. She attempted to pass between them and as she did so one of the wagons, belonging to Swenza & Stura of 1362 Devisadero street, struck her. Miss Jackson was knocked unconscious and in this condition was carried into the Pioneer automobile garage near by. E. P. Hart, a representative of this company, got out an automobile and carried the young lady to the hospital, where Dr. R. C. Hill dressed her wounds.

The driver of the wagon that struck Miss Jackson drove away without giving his name.

The young lady will be able to be about in a day or two if no complications ensue.

POLISH PRIEST IS ROBBED

CLEVELAND, O., August 28.—Upon the statement made to the police by Rev. Benedict Ronsinski, a Catholic priest of St. Stanislaus Church, that he had been held a prisoner for twenty-four hours, without food, and forced to sign two notes for $500 each and two checks for like amounts which had been since cashed, besides being robbed of $30 and some jewelry, two men and a woman were arrested today.

Rev. Rosinski says that he received two telephone messages on Thursday, urging him to call upon Jennie Oelnski at No. 389 Cedar avenue. He had been there but a few minutes when Juan Tuszynski rushed in declaring himself to be the woman's fiance, demanded that the priest give up $400 for alleged alienating of her affections. With Tuszynski was Leo Czichowski, both of whom according to Rosinski began to beat him and tear his clothes from his back when he refused them money. His jewelry was taken from him as well as $50 and he was held as a prisoner until he consented to sign the checks. The checks, it is said were cashed by Tuszynski and the woman. Upon the return to the room with the money the priest says he was released. Rev. Rosinski notified the police and the trio were arrested. The two notes and $819 were found under a carpet in the woman's room.

JUMPS OVERBOARD TO SAVE HIS LIFE

SAUSALITO, August 28.—An ark belonging to W. B. Harrington was destroyed by fire early this morning. Its care-taker, George Standish, saved his life by jumping overboard.

WITNESSES MANEUVERS

President Wilson and Party See Plunger Fire Projectile.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., August 28.—President Roosevelt, with a party of friends and relatives, today witnessed a test of the submarine torpedo boat Plunger from the deck of the yacht Sylph.

The weather was quite different from that of yesterday when the President himself made a trip on the Plunger, and watched it at close range, even participating in the maneuvers of the tiny vessel, forty feet below the surface of Long Island Sound. A stiff northeastern wind yet was blowing, but the rain had ceased and the sun was shining. The test of the Plunger took place in the waters of the Sound a short distance outside the entrance to Oyster Bay. The boat operated in above seven fathoms of water.

Soon after the President and his party boarded the Sylph, the Plunger got under way. At the request of the President, the little vessel performed some of her feats within the waters of Oyster Bay. While the President was on board the vessel yesterday no attempt was made to discharge a torpedo. As he was anxious to witness the tests, it was arranged that Lieutenant Nelson, the commander of the vessel, and his men would launch one of the projectiles within the bay. Accompanied by Lieutenant Frank Evans, commander of the Sylph, and the President's cousin, W. Emlem Roosevelt, the President went to the bridge of the Sylph to witness the experiment.

After maneuvering a few minutes, making in the meantime several porpoise dives, the Plunger came to the surface and discharged a torpedo. The bow of the vessel rose a few feet out of the water, there was a gush of foam several fathoms ahead and the torpedo skimmed along the surface of the bay for perhaps 200 yards. The projectile was picked up by one of the Sylph's launches.

On account of the pressure of business in connection with the peace negotiations President Roosevelt was obliged to leave the Sylph at 10:30 and return to Sagamore Hill. Before leaving he expressed his satisfaction with the maneuvering of the vessel and the notable skill of the men who handled her. He had learned, he said, that the officers and men on the boat were receiving for the services they are now rendering only shore pay, although it was manifest that at no time would their services be more hazardous than they are at present. The President has directed that hereafter they shall receive sea pay for their present duties. Their sea pay will begin next Monday.

FOUND DEAD IN ROOM

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.—Lawrence McDonald, a night watchman employed at the Union Iron Works was found dead in bed in a room at 511 Third street, early this morning. Gas was escaping from a wide open burner in the room, but from the circumstances surrounding the case the Morgue attaches are satisfied that it is a case of accidental death.

McDonald lived at the Nevada House in the Potrero, but when drinking heavily always stopped at the Third-street house. He had been in liquor for several days, and was very much intoxicated when he retired last night. When the landlord opened his room this morning he found the gas burner wide open and McDonald dead. The unfortunate man had evidently opened the gas burner during the night and made an effort to light the gas. After striking about twenty matches, however, he had abandoned the job and returned to his bed without closing the burner.

The dead man was a native of Ireland, about 50 years of age and unmarried.

James Beebe, who has been a resident of Oakland for more than forty-five years, died at his home, 632 Forty-seventh street Friday.

Mr. Beebe was one of the organizers of the Trinity Episcopal Church, having started it as a mission in his home under the direction of Father Ackerly of St. John's Church. As the mission grew Mr. Beebe donated a lot for the erection of a mission. A short time afterwards it was removed to where the Trinity Episcopal Church now stands on the corner of Telegraph avenue and Caledonia street.

The deceased leaves besides his wife, who has been a faithful companion for about thirty-five years, a daughter, Mrs. F. D. Hudson of Los Angeles and a step-daughter, Miss Mary E. Burdick.

PRINCE DELIVERS GERMANY'S REPLY

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Prince von Radolin, the German Ambassador, today delivered to Premier Rouvier, the reply of Germany to the French note concerning the program to be discussed at the Moroccan conference. The Ambassador remained for an extended discussion of the question, which is considered to have somewhat improved as the result of Germany's reply.

Some women mourn the loss of a bad husband more than some others do the loss of a good one.

PRESIDENT FITZGERALD IS BACK FROM NORTH

Popular Councilman Will Work for Public Improvements in Oakland.

George Fitzgerald, president of the City Council, and Daniel Crowley, have returned from Alaska where they went to inspect promising mining property owned by them. Both gentlemen report having had a most enjoyable trip and believe that aside from the experience that their outing will bring financial returns.

"I am glad to be back in Oakland, again," said President Fitzgerald this morning. "We arrived from the north last night, and we had an excellent trip, visiting Portland, Seattle, and Alaska. But after having seen all of the sights that the Northwest has to show I want to again assert my allegiance to Oakland and say that there is no city on earth that is the peer of our own.

"I am glad to be back so that I may assist in the various projects which have for the purpose the improvement and betterment of Oakland. Oakland is so situated geographically that its future presents a more roseate hue than Portland, Tacoma or Seattle ever dreamed of. For the next few months I want to devote my time as far as possible to assisting this city to clear away the things that have retarded her progress.

"I have not made myself thoroughly conversant with the state of affairs as yet but from what I hear there have been several projects initiated during my absence which will have my heartiest support. Once this city starts and really makes some large needed improvement the rest will follow rapidly. As Oakland now stands it is a beautiful city and with just a little stimulus she will outstrip herself."

When pressed to state just how he had served his personal fortune in the far North Fitzgerald would not admit that he had struck it rich, but contented himself with the statement that he was going back to develop the mines. The friends of the popular Councilman say that he will soon be wealthy beyond the dreams of avarice.

CHILD HAS LOCK-JAW

Little One Was Poisoned With Impure Virus.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Noel Gwynn, aged 3 years, is dying from lockjaw from vaccination.

In a little white cot on the Children's Hospital the life of a pretty child is fast ebbing in spite of the heroic efforts of surgeons and nurses to stay the progress of a treacherous malady which is rapidly reaching its final stages. In a desolate home at 2309 California street a heart-broken mother is awaiting in dread of the message that will tell her that the end has come.

The physicians have declared that there is no hope, but the mother, Mrs. Madeline Gwynn, clings to the thread of life that still binds the babe to her. Thursday morning the little one was taken to the hospital suffering from an aggravated case of tetanus. Three weeks before the mother, in the anxiety to prevent disease, had Dr. George W. Birdsall of 696 Sutter street vaccinate the baby. The virus proved to be poison, and from that day on the little one continued to grow worse, until Dr. W. B. Lewitt and Dr. George E. Ebright pronounced the malady to be tetanus and gave it as their opinion that the condition was the direct result of the vaccination.

Dr. Birdsall will not admit as much, but he has only seen the baby once since the poisoned virus was used. He does not known where the virus was purchased, nor can he tell much about the case. Dr. Lewitt will not express an opinion upon the causes of the child's condition, beyond stating that the diagnosis shows the disease to be lockjaw in its most aggravated form.

DISMISSED FROM SERVICES

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR REMOVES DEPARTMENT INSPECTOR WILSON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Secretary of the Interior today dismissed from the service of that department Inspector George F. Wilson on account of disclosures made in connection with the investigation of the charges against United States Senator Mitchell of Oregon, and it was stated by some of the witnesses in that case that Wilson had promised favorable recommendation in some of the cases in which the witnesses were interested for a consideration in money, and it was claimed that in one case he had accepted $200.

When called upon for an explanation Wilson admitted that he had received the money, but said that it had been exacted to entrap the man from whom it was taken, and that he had intended to return the amount. This explanation was unsatisfactory and Wilson was removed. Wilson was appointed from Rhode Island.

YOUNG WIFE TOOK POISON BY MISTAKE

Mrs. Carmen Sullivan Dies in the Arms of Her Husband After Taking Lysol.

Mrs. Carmen B. Sullivan, a young woman twenty-four years of age, died Saturday afternoon, after swallowing unsuspectingly a teaspoonful of lysol, which she mistook for paregoric.

The tragic occurrence took place in the little home of Charles W. Sullivan at 631 Forty-sixth street, which they had been but recently occupied, and where their newly married life promised to be a happy one.

The poison was swallowed by Mrs. Sullivan shortly after 1 o'clock while she, her husband and Miss Jeanette Grau, a friend of the young woman, were eating dinner.

Mrs. Sullivan complained of not feeling well, and arose from the table and took a small bottle from the shelf which she thought contained paregoric. When she took it neither her husband nor Miss Grau paid much attention to her until the young woman began to shriek in agony.

Rushing to her side, Sullivan caught his wife in his arms just as she fell writhing in agony. They quickly summoned Dr. A. S. Kelley, who did everything possible to relieve her, but she died within fifteen minutes after she had made her fatal mistake. The lysol, which acts very much like carbolic acid, burned her mouth and throat, and making its way into her stomach and quickly killed her.

The two bottles, the one containing paregoric and the other containing lysol were side by side on the shelf. Both were of the same size and the same color. The lysol bottle was labeled poison but Mrs. Sullivan took the bottle down without noticing her mistake.

Mrs. Sullivan was born in Modesto. She was the daughter of H. L. Bradford, who is a well known attorney in San Francisco. Mrs. Sullivan before her marriage was a notary public and stenographer, having her office in the Crossley Building in San Francisco.

About sixteen months ago she married Charles W. Sullivan, a machinist formerly in the employ of the Union Iron Works.

A few months ago they moved to their little home at 631 Forty-sixth street and set up housekeeping. Mr. Bradford, Mrs. Sullivan's father soon moved to Oakland too, so that he could be near his daughter. Mrs. Bradford, the mother, was prostrated with grief, while her husband and son-in-law sat heart-broken, mourning their loss. When seen yesterday Mr. Sullivan said:

"We were so happy together. We had just got comfortably settled here, and but for this terrible thing would have lived together happily. There was not a cloud on our horizon. It was all over so quickly that I can hardly realize that my little wife is dead. A shriek of agony from her lips, and before anything could be done she was gone."

GETTING READY FOR THE LABOR DAY PICNIC

P. C. WEBER, member of the Executive Board of Central Labor Council.

P. C. Weber, chairman of the committee on refreshments at the Labor Day Picnic at Satro Park, Fruitvale, has reported that arrangements are all complete for the picnic. Those associated with Mr. Weber are: F. C. Joslin, J. Fee, W. Simmons.

Mr. Weber was secretary for the Cooks and Waiters' Union for a number of terms and also served as an officer for the Central Labor Council.

Essays in the competition for the prize offered to the school children of Alameda county are being received by the committee at the Central Labor Council Building. The winner will be determined by September 3.

All school children are entitled to submit to the committee their idea on how to settle the dispute between capital and labor.

NOT SETTLED.

The dispute between the Bekan Van and Storage Company of San Francisco and the teamsters' union remains the same.

The efforts of the representatives of the Central Labor Council and the Teamsters' Union of Oakland has thus far been successful in confining the affair to San Francisco alone.

MACDONOUGH WILL BE CROWDED

"MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH" WILL OPEN HER ENGAGEMENT.

Tonight will be the opening night of this season's greatest success, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and a crowded house is anticipated, if the advance sale is any indication. This play took San Francisco by storm and has been the greatest financial and comedy success for many seasons. This production will be seen for three nights here, commencing tonight, and a matinee Wednesday.

Charles Carter, the young collegian, who made a national reputation as "Cy Prime" in "The Old Homestead," and who as Mr. Stubbins in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is justifying the determination of Liebler & Co. to star him next season, advises against the stage as a career. In a recent address to his old classmates the brilliant actor said:

"Do not take the stage for your calling, young men. There is room enough at the top, but the chances you take in reaching the mark are too long. It is a hard life. There is no profession that throws out so many temptations, the resisting of which requires a will stronger than 90 per cent of the young men of today possess.

"Public opinion says, too, that a man who is an actor is a reprobate. This is a wrong and erroneous impression, however, which I could prove if I had the space. A man is no more a reprobate because he is an actor than he is a liar because he is a lawyer; a thief because he is a politician, or a hypocrite because he is a minister.

"Robert G. Ingersoll once said: 'The stage brings solace to the wounded, peace to the troubled, and with the wizard's wand touch the tears of grief, and they are changed to smiles of joy, while the trials and the grief of life for the moment fade away.'

"I would advise no young man to go on the stage. I know of no profession that affords so few opportunities, nor of one that throws so many obstacles in the way of success.

"Pluck, energy, push and perseverance are necessary in order to achieve success in any profession. A young man must be doubly equipped with these, together with an iron will and good talent, in order to gain even a moderate recognition on the stage. Every opportunity that presents itself is confronted by many obstacles.

"Actors are born. Real talent is not acquired but given by nature, and requires hard and painstaking work to develop it. After you are satisfied that you have talent for a theatrical career and have made a firm resolve to devote your time to it conscientiously, you begin to look about for an opportunity. This is where you begin to realize what a hard proposition you have encountered. Managers want to know what you have done. If you have had no experience they have no place for you. Without experience the dramatic agents will not enter your name on their books. Then you become convinced that you must have experience before you can get a start.

"But how? You certainly will not suffer the humiliation of taking the position of property man in a one-night-stand organization. That is what you must do, however, as a rule, in order to get your first start. Here is where your pluck and perseverance serves you. The opportunity is grasped. You go on the road and the company is stranded in some far-off Western town after a few weeks of disastrous business, and if you are not fortunate enough to have a friend to resort to for financial aid you may walk back to New York to try it over again. If the walking is good, that is the one consolation you will derive from your first experience in trooping."

"Mrs. Wiggs" has been a great success all over the country and the play is sure to make a big hit in Oakland.

FIRE RAGES AT HAY DOCK

OAKLAND MAN DISCOVERS BLAZE AND TURNS IN ALARM.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.—A fire raged for over two hours on the hay dock at the foot of Third street last night, resulting in a loss to Somers & Co., of nearly $3000 worth of hay and straw. The blaze was stubborn, requiring the combined efforts of fire companies 1 and 35, engine company 9, truck company 8 and the fireboat Governor Irwin to keep it under control. It was discovered about 7:30 o'clock by David Bridgewood of Oakland, who immediately turned in the alarm. It is thought that the fire was started by some tramps, several of whom were seen loafing around the docks earlier in the day. Had it not been for the fireboat the entire wharf would probably have been swept by the conflagration, as the firemen met with considerable delay in getting water on the fire.

PEDDLERS DECIDE NOT TO STRIKE

WILL TRY MORAL SUASION ON THE NEW YORK CITY AUTHORITIES.

NEW YORK, August 28.—Push cart peddlers to the number of several thousand, who threatened a few days ago to strike and deprive a large East Side section of its fresh vegetable supply, have now decided to try moral persuasion against the city authorities and forego a strike.

The peddlers' unions met yesterday and took this course. They decided to begin by appointing a committee to call on the Mayor in an effort to have withdrawn a regular number of peddlers' licenses now in the hands of small storekeepers, and to secure other reforms affecting their business.

FELL FROM HIS WHEEL

WILLIE STARROW MEETS WITH A PAIFUL ACCIDENT.

FRUITVALE, August 28.—Willie Starrow, a young man eighteen years of age, who resides at 138 Julian street in San Francisco, fell from his bicycle at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, while he was racing with the Central City Wheelmen.

The race was started at Bray Avenue and East Fourteenth street, and was a ten-mile contest to Haywards. When Bezes street was reached, in some way Starrow fell from his wheel, and five other wheelmen who were behind him at the time fell on top of him.

He was at once removed to the Alameda Sanatorium, where he was attended by Dr. Callan, who found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain, and a fracture of the skull. The young man is still unconscious, and little hope is given for his recovery.

"THE CONFLICT" AT YE LIBERTY

JAMES NEILL AND COMPANY RETURN TO THE POPULAR PLAYHOUSE.

Commencing tonight and running the entire week, with the usual matinees Saturday and Sunday, the attraction at the Ye Liberty Playhouse, will be "The Conflict," a powerful drama by Maurice V. Samuels. In "The Conflict," the scene of action is laid in present day Paris.

It is a five-act drama, and its acting qualities have been pronounced unexceptionable.

The theme is based upon the central conception of Balzac's "Magic Skin," but those who have read the manuscript assert that it can scarcely be called an adaption of that famous novel, much less a dramatization of it.

The same high standard of stage management, scenery and costuming that has characterized the previous productions given at this playhouse, will be maintained.

James Neill and Edythe Chapman Neill will both be seen in the leading roles, and will be supported by a special cast selected from Bishop's Players. "The Conflict" should become one of the most popular bills ever produced at this playhouse.

PORT ARTHUR DURING THE SIEGE.

Edwin Emerson, the war correspondent, will lecture Tuesday evening, August 29, in the First Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Men's League. He will tell of personal experiences "In and Out of Port Arthur," which will be illustrated by nearly a hundred pictures taken during the siege. Admission free. Men and women welcome.

WRONG SORT

Perhaps Plain Old Meat, Potatoes and Bread May Be Against You for a Time.

A change to the right kind of food can lift one from a sick bed. A lady in Welden, Illinois, says:

"Last Spring I became bed-fast with severe stomach trouble accompanied by sick headache. I got worse and worse until I became so low I could scarcely retain any food at all, although I tried every kind. I had become completely discouraged, had given up all hope and thought I was doomed to starve to death, till one day my husband trying to find something I could retain brought home some Grape-Nuts.

"To my surprise the food agreed with me, digested perfectly and without distress. I began to gain strength at once, my flesh (which had been flabby) grew firmer, my health improved in every way and every day, and in a very few weeks I gained twenty pounds in weight. I liked Grape-Nuts so well that for four months I ate no other food, and always felt as well satisfied after eating as if I had sat down to a fine banquet.

"I had no return of the miserable sick stomach nor of the headaches, that I used to have when I ate other food. I am now a well woman, doing all my own work again, and feel that life is worth living.

"Grape-Nuts food has been a god-send to my family; it surely saved my life and my two little boys have thriven on it wonderfully." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Michigan.

ARTISTS COMING TO AMERICA

AMERICAN AGENTS ARE DEMANDING THE BEST TALENT.

LONDON, August 28.—So many musical artists are going to America this autumn that the strain on London will be very heavy and the London musical season must suffer in consequence. American agents are demanding the best talent and have already booked tours for many well-known English singers and German pianists. "Nothing can stop this exodus," said one American manager, "because America will pay twice the price offered by England for pianists, violinists and singers. Great Britain, in turn, being willing to pay a higher price than Germany, the last country is the greater sufferer."

"America gets the best musicians," said a pianist, "because the managers will pay startling prices for stars. Of course, many of these costly performances do not pay, but such a galaxy of stars advertises and managers make up the deficit on less expensive ones. America, while always looking for sensation, is really a music-loving country."

COULD NOT PLEASE PASTORS

MAN WHO RUNS A GROCERY STORE AS CHRIST WOULD RUN IT.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 28.—A. F. Norton, who runs a grocery store at Marion "as Christ would run it," and makes a success of it, has just tried the same thing with a boarding-house at a camp meeting and has given up the job in despair, because the preachers who boarded with him "kicked" so strenuously on the service.

Mr. Norton had the dining-room privileges at the Wesleyan Conference meeting at Fairmount. He ran the place a few days, found the job vexatious and unprofitable, and today the dining-room was closed. The management is now looking for a successor to run the place as a boarding-house keeper should run it.

Mr. Norton at his grocery sells his goods for cash, refuses to deliver to the houses of his patrons, pays his employes every night and cuts prices on everything to the bone. He now has three places of business running on that basis. When he attempted to branch out into other towns other merchants combined against him and soon destroyed his business.

Preachers at the camp meeting objected because they were not served with fried chicken and because the system of waiting was not up to their standard.

SEES POINT, LAUGHS AND DISLOCATES JAW.

Morris Goldberg, aged thirty-four years, Monroe street, was standing outside his place of business today, when he was approached by two friends.

"We just heard a new joke," said one and Goldberg asked about it.

"Why does a chicken cross the street?" said one friend.

Morris was unable to solve the question, but when the joker gave the answer that the chicken crossed the street to get on the other side, Goldberg opened his mouth and laughed so loudly that he could be heard half a square away.

He continued laughing for ten minutes, when his mirth was cut short by dislocation of the jaw.—Philadelphia Special to Chicago Tribune.

SCENIC FESTIVAL SECURED

GUY C. SMITH AND GEORGE MACKINNON TO MANAGE LARGE ATTRACTION.

The people of Oakland should consider themselves fortunate, as for an entire week commencing Monday, September 18, they are to be treated to the greatest pyrotechnic display and scenic festival that has ever been seen on the Pacific Coast. Messrs. Guy C. Smith and George G. Mackinnon have contracted with Henry J. Pain for a Pacific Coast tour of his famous spectacle, "The Last Days of Pompeii," which has been for many years the feature of the summer entertainments at Manhattan Beach, New York. Heretofore it has only been seen in the largest cities, such as New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Berlin, Paris, London (where it is an annual feature of the famous Crystal Palace), and for a brief but highly profitable engagement at St. Louis during the recent World's Fair. While Mr. Smith was in New York recently the management of the Lewis and Clarke Exposition at Portland, Or., made overtures to Mr. Pain for the production of his great spectacle, "The Last Days of Pompeii," as a special attraction. Because of the tremendous expense involved in transporting this colossal show Mr. Pain was in doubt as to the advisability of sending this attraction to Portland, a distance of over three thousand miles, when he was certain of as much profit nearer home.

It was not until Mr. Smith signed a contract and guaranteed to take the show for a tour of the principal coast cities at the termination of its engagement at the Portland Exposition that Mr. Pain accepted the conditions of the fair management. The wisdom of the management of the exposition in securing this attraction has already been demonstrated, for it is the only sensation of the fair, and Mr. Smith and Mr. Mackinnon showed their appreciation of the excellence of the attraction and their faith in the amusement seekers of this city, for the interest that has already been demonstrated in this gorgeous exhibition wherever it has been seen has been phenomenal.

Henry J. Pain is known throughout the civilized world as the wizard of pyrotechnics, and his fireworks are recognized as the greatest ever known. The beautiful city of Pompeii is shown at the base of Mount Vesuvius, with exciting contests of the Roman hippodrome, the sports of the gladiators, the persecution and historical escape of the Christian captives, and the beautiful ballets and pageants for the amusement of the nobles and ladies. Without warning a stream of lava gushes from the volcano and the mimic city crumbles to ashes and burns. "The Last Days of Pompeii" is the most impressive and instructive lesson ever shown in spectacular display.

At the conclusion of the fall of Pompeii there is given an exhibition of fireworks and set pieces the like of which has never been seen except at Manhattan Beach. Fives acres of ground is necessary to the proper presentation of this magnificent attraction, and to that end the property between Thirty-seventh and Thirty-ninth and San Pablo avenue and Adeline has been secured, where during the entire week of Monday, September 18, Messrs. Smith and Mackinnon will present Pain's "Last Days of Pompeii" and marvelous fireworks display.

RACE SUICIDE IS DISCUSSED

SPECIAL INQUIRY WILL BE MADE INTO IMPORTANT QUESTION.

BOSTON, Mass., August 28.—As a supplementary part of the State census now being compiled, Chief Pidgen has undertaken a special inquiry to determine, if possible, some facts relating to race suicide. Every married woman in the State will be asked questions by the enumerators calculated to show whether the so-called race sucide is an actual or merely apparent outgrowth of present conditions.

Mr. Pidgen has a theory that the average birth period in three years, and the inquiry will be mainly directed to determine the point. The question will be as to the age of the woman at marriage, the number of children born since, with the dates, and the number of children borne by the mother and grandmother of the woman being questioned. The occupations of married women will also be inquired into to see if this has any influence on the birth rate.

RYAN TALKS OF TROUBLES OF THE EQUITABLE

New York Financier Says There Will be House Cleaning Under Morgan's Management

SEATTLE, Wash., August 28.—Thomas F. Ryan, the financier of New York City, who recently acquired the controlling of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, in an interview here today said:

"This is my eighth visit to the Pacific Coast. I am astounded at the progress of the country since my last visit, in 1901, and the evidence of prosperity to be seen on all sides.

"As to the Equitable Life, my purchase of the control of the stock and inducing Mr. Morton to take the presidency was only a public duty which any number of other men would have readily performed had they been aware of the conveniences of a continuation of the dissensions among the old officers and directors. I happened from my relations to some of the parties engaged in the conflict to have a better view of the situation than some of the others. That was all.

"There is not the slightest doubt about the strength of the Equitable. It is as sound as the Bank of England. It will hereafter be run as an insurance company pure and simple, with an eye singly to the welfare of its policy holders. As to the investigation by the New York Legislature, nothing could be better for the policy holders of the Equitable. Mr. Morton will afford the committee every facility and will aid in every way, to the end that a full and thorough investigation shall be made. If anybody connected with the company has been guilty of wrongdoing he should suffer, and if anybody has anything in his possession belonging to the company he must give it back. We insist, however, that the investigation committee shall demand from all the other insurance companies that the committee be given the same facilities for an insight into their management as the Equitable affords. We feel that this is not only fair, but clearly in the interests of all policy holders. The management of all the great life insurance companies must become an open book, or confidence, which is the very foundation on which they exist, will not soon be restored. The Federal Government should have practically the same supervision of life insurance companies as it has over national banks. The officers and managers of these companies have in their keeping a trust of the most sacred character, and they should not object to the strictest supervision of their conduct consistent with the best interests of their business. I am quite sure that President Roosevelt has given this question much thought, and I hope he will express his opinions to Congress in his usual vigorous and straightforward way."

"I suppose that you are not pleased at the adverse comment of some of the newspapers regarding your purchase of the control of the Equitable?" he was asked.

"Oh, that can't be helped. It will all come out right in the end, when they see that the directors, Mr. Cleveland and his co-trustees, are electing men to stand by Mr. Morton in his determination to have a thorough house-cleaning and put the company on an economical business basis, reduce the cost of insurance to policy holders and manage the company in their interests and with due regard to public sentiment. The new management must in this way appeal to the public conscience; it will then command confidence everywhere."

"Are you a candidate for United States Senator from Virginia?"

"No, indeed. I have no desire to hold any political office. I have responsibilities enough without that."

"You are, of course, interested in national politics?"

"Yes, always, and in Virginia State politics. I am glad to hear that Congressman Swanson has been nominated by the Democrats for Governor of that State. The Presidential election is a long way off and it is too soon to talk about candidates. Democratic success can only come by the Democrats in the Southern States organizing and forcing the party to take a stand for conservatism and by appealing to the sober-minded, thoughtful voters of the country. In the Solid South lies the party's greatest hope of a revival of the principles of true Democracy. Without the South the Democratic party would long since have been only a memory of the past. It is therefore entitled by right to dictate its policy."

PEVIVALIST HAS MANY HEARERS

REV. SCOVILLE PREACHES TO TWO PACKED AUDIENCES WITH SUCCESS.

Yesterday was a great day at the First Christian Church. It was the first Sunday of the special revival services now being held there under the direction of the Rev. Charles Reign Scoville of Chicago. The audiences were large and the interest very unusual for so early in the series. The large auditorium was packed to its full capacity at the evening service. There were twenty-two additions to the church at the various services of the day, eleven of them at the night meeting. This is a record-breaker for revival meetings in Christian churches on the Pacific Coast, for the first Sunday. Rev. Scoville's meetings usually reach their high point of interest about the close of the first week. In his meeting at Pittsburg, Pa., where there were 687 additions, eleven of the number came the first week. Similar results are recorded of other meetings held by him. This is his first meeting on this coast. He expresses much gratification over the manner in which the revival is starting.

While he is pronounced by all who hear him as one of the greatest evangelists of modern times, it is natural that the secret of his power should be closely studied. Some say it is his great faith, for no one can hear him without believing that he means every word he utters concerning the religion of Christ. Others say it is his personal magnetism, while still others believe it is his ability to get others to work. He has made it plain from the start, since coming to this city, that if a great meeting is held here it cannot be held by one man, or two men, or three men, but by the members of the church each doing his or her part. The organization for the meeting is thorough, as made up under his instructions, and while Rev. Scoville says that organization is a good thing it will not make a success of a meeting. He believes that faith and work must go together—that faith without work is valueless, and that work without faith is of no avail.

He preached Sunday evening on "The Three Kingdoms," his sermon being illustrated by a large chart, on which were three circles. One circle was made to represent the kingdom of childhood, another the kingdom of Christ and the third the kingdom of satan. He stated that each child as it comes to the age of responsibility must of necessity pass from the first kingdom to one of the other two.

Mr. De Loss Smith, soloist, rendered "My Mother's Bible" in a most impressive manner. His singing is a special feature of each service. He is pronounced by local musicians as one of the best evangelistic soloists ever heard here.

There will be no service tonight, as Rev. Scoville usually takes Monday as his day of rest. The meeting tomorrow night will be of a special nature. It is called a "mothers' meeting," although Rev. Scoville calculates to make it of much interest to all classes, old and young. He proposes to pay a tribute to motherhood. In his sermons he often refers in affectionate terms to his own aged mother, residing in the East.

There will be baptismal services at the close of the sermon.

EXCURSION MEETS DISASTER

PASSENGER TRAIN RUNS INTO A FREIGHT WITH FATAL RESULT.

LOGANSPORT, Indiana, August 28.—One man was killed and another fatally injured and a number of passengers seriously hurt in a collision which occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad in the South Yards about three miles from this city early this morning. Fireman Walter Everson of Richmond is dead, pinioned beneath his engine. Engineer Grady was thrown beneath his engine and both legs were crushed. He cannot live. The injured are:

James Henderson, Logansport, back and head cut and bruised.

County Treasurer Owen McGreevey, Logansport, back injured.

L. C. McGreevey, Hamilton, Ohio, cut and bruised.

George Brown, Logansport, bruises and probably injured internally.

The wrecked train was an excursion which left here Sunday morning at 7 o'clock for Cincinnati, and was due here on the return trip at 1 o'clock this morning. As it entered the yards at a high rate of speed freight train No. 129 southbound, was just leaving the main track and the excursion train crushed into it. There were ten cars on the excursion train, four of which left the tracks. The passenger engine was reversed and overturned. The baggage car and smoker were splintered. The third and fourth cars were knocked from the tracks but did not overturn. The other coaches did not leave the track.

A special train, quickly followed by a second, both carrying physicians and officials of the road were hurried to the scene of the wreck and the injured were quickly brought to this city. There were about forty passengers on the train and all suffered to some extent. The local Pennsylvania officials were unable to account for the freight train being on the main track.

At the place where the wreck occurred there are seven tracks and all but one is blocked by the wreckage.

FALLS MANY FEET TO DEATH

STOWAWAY ON A BALLOON ASCENSION PAYS DEARLY FOR RIDE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., August 28.—Releasing his grasp on a trapeze attached to a parachute as the latter opened to the wind, twelve hundred feet above the ground, John Williams, thirty-80 years old, has been dashed to his death, at Red House Park, near Cahokia, Illinois. Every bone in his body was broken as Williams struck the ground with fearful force.

The tragedy is said to have been the result of the victim's determination to make a balloon ascension. As the aeronaut prepared to make the ascension, Williams is said to have rushed forward and seized the trapeze bar, calling to his friends "Good bye." As he clasped the bar the ballon rose into space, carrying both the aeronaut and Williams. As the parachute commenced to fill in the wind and the rapid descent of the canvass was suddenly checked, Williams, whose strength was exhausted, was jerked loose from the bar and his body shot downward.

The aeronaut was uninjured and alighted a few yards away from the scene where Williams met his death.

SAYS DOCUMENT WAS STOLEN

IN FIGHT OVER LEASE CLAIM MADE COMPACT WAS NOT FULFILLED.

POINT RICHMOND, August 28.—In the suit of Vincent Hook against Patrick J. Horgan, over the alleged leasing of the property at the corner of Main and Ferry streets, the plaintiff Friday in the Superior Court has filed his answer to the cross complaint of the defendant, in which he denies that he ever leased the property to Horgan, but on the other hand, alleges that defendant negotiated with him for the lease of the property, and it was orally agreed between them that defendant could have it by paying a cash bonus of $200 and in addition a monthly rental of $110. On February 10 of this year they went to the office of an attorney to have the lease drawn up. This was done and the document signed in duplicate, and the respective parties were to return in a few days and acknowledge it. Defendant was asked for the bonus but refused to pay it, and plaintiff alleges that defendant later surreptitiously entered the office of the attorney and took possession of the document.

THINKS THE MINERS WILL NOT STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA, August 28.—President Baer of the Reading Railroad Company who returned Saturday from a trip to the West, does not expect a strike in the Anthracite region.

"While I have not been in close touch with events in the last few weeks," he said, "from what I have heard I believe the miners are better satisfied with present conditions, and will make a peaceful adjustment of the wage scale for another term of years. The coal interests will certainly do their part to avert a strike."

Why Pure Food Laws Are Necessary.

The Minneapolis Journal calls attention forcibly to the fact that pure food laws are made necessary because commercial standards have fallen till the adulteration of goods and the selling of spurious compounds under false labels have come to be regarded as legitimate trade devices. These practices result from efforts to reap dishonest gains in business, and are closely related to swindling and getting money under false pretenses. Why do not the commercial bodies of the country unite in a movement for a return to fair dealing—to selling articles for what they really are and giving full weight in billing them out to customers? Discussing the excuses urged in defense of food adulteration and fraud in trade marks the Minneapolis paper says:

"Pure-food laws are a double protest against one evil, the adulteration of food. On the one hand is the honest dealer whose trade is going because his larger competitor is able to deceive the people and by selling a fraudulent article, take the business, and the profit and leave the little honest fellow to bankruptcy and despair. Then there is the scientific man who is objecting to the adulteration of food on altruistic grounds. He does not want to see the race of men deteriorate and be extinguished by the feeding of the fires of life with false fuel. The main difficulty in the way of a national pure-food law has been the lack of standards of purity. These are being gradually established by the work of the laboratory and the experiments of the agricultural department. When the people learn how far they are being poisoned, they will instruct their Congressmen to cut off the adulteration or be themselves cut off.

"The manufacturers of foods and food products have maintained, with considerable heat, that all adulterations are not harmful; that, in fact, many are wholesome. This scientific men are inclined to concede. It is a fact which makes legislation necessarily wait upon the discrimination of harmful from harmless adulterations. Dr. Wiley's experiments with his so-called 'poison squad,' are directed toward the identification of the harmful adulterations and the demonstration of their actual effects upon the human body.

"Of course, there is a great mass of food adulteration which, while it may not affect the health of the community, is quite apt, when revealed, to affect its temper. For example, when a man buys coffee he does not care to take in remoulded bean hulls. This would make him mad, even if he knew bean hulls were better for him than coffee. The fight against adulterated food takes two forms, one a battle for the truthful labeling of adulterates which are not of themselves poisonous, and the other, the prohibition of the exposure for sale and the sale of adulterated articles which are poisonous.

"The curious thing about all pure-food laws is that they are an attempt to do by law what commercial honor should dictate without law. It is a reflection upon the age that so many laws have to be framed to prevent men from poisoning their fellowmen for the sake of 6 or 60 per cent profit they make upon the fraudulent article sold."

If the commercial bodies would do their duty there would be little necessity for Congress to legislate against dishonesty masquerading as legitimate business.

An exchange speaks of the Taggart scandal as a phase of high life in the army. To a man up a tree it looks like pretty low life. Anything that is unclean and vulgar cannot be styled high unless the term is used in the sense that it is applied to tainted meat.

M. Witte says internal conditions in Russia renders compliance with Japanese demands impossible. This sounds like an admission of weakness. If Russia cannot afford to pay the indemnity or the people are so disaffected that will make a row over its payment, how is the Czar to continue the war without further impoverishing the war and increasing the popular discontent? A government that cannot afford to make peace can still less afford to make war.

Maude Gonne, who made a mess of matrimony with Major McBride, says brainy women should not marry. Some women who think they are brainy have no business to marry, but women with clear heads, good digestion, steady nerves, and no "missions," continue to make the best wives and mothers.

The American Negro's Future.

In the current number of the Quarterly Journal of Economics Professor Walter F. Wilcox, who has gained an established reputation for his statistical studies of the American people, comes to an entirely different view. By studying the relative rates of increase of whites and negroes in successive decades, and by investigating the birth and death rate of the Southern negroes and their economic progress, he comes to the conclusion that the colored man is relativcly losing ground. Projecting the figures for the declining rate of increase in the last half century into the future he estimates that the negroes in the year 2000 will not number over 25,000,000 and that, taking the Southern States alone, the race will constitute not 32 per cent of the population as now, but probably only 17 per cent.

It is impossible to enter into Professor Wilcox's long computations, but his main points can be easily summarized. The negro gets no increase to amount to anything from immigration. His birth rate is falling and his death rate is almost stationary. While making much positive progress industrially, he is still falling back relatively to the industrial progress the white are making. He "is being confined more and more to the inferior and less remunerative occupations, and is not sharing proportionately to his numbers in the prosperity of the country as a whole or of the section in which he mainly lives." Both racial qualities and economic discrimination contribute to this industrial backwardness. There is no indication that a change in the present tendencies is to be expected.—Chicago Record-Herald.

After bragging vociferously about her marvelous growth and the fabulous increase in values, Los Angeles wants a big discount off when it comes to paying taxes. To hear the Angelenos talk one would think their assessment roll was padded for advertising purposes.

Since the reciprocity treaty went into effect Cuban imports into the United States have grown enormously, while Cuban imports from the United States have fallen off. Is this the kind of reciprocity the tariff smashers want?

It is stated that the great majority of those killed in auto accidents belong to the idle rich class. Score one for the auto.

There is no excuse for an auto rushing with furious speed at a grade crossing, around a sharp corner or over a hill, but the average man with an auto is not looking for reasons for avoiding trouble. He had rather make his excuses after making the trouble.

A Trick of Shyster Lawyers.

The efforts of a certain class of lawyers to make the adjudication of law suits turn upon trivialities and immaterialities and technical irrelevancies are not unknown elsewhere. Judge Martin of the Admiralty Court of Victoria, British Columbia, is now under fire for wearing a wig and gown in trying a case recently. It is alleged that his judgment is void because he sat on the bench thus appareled. It is needless to say the wig and gown had nothing to do with the law of the case and in no wise impeded the course of justice. It seems, however, that the Canadian Parliament, at its last session, passed an act forbidding judges in the Dominion to wear wigs and gowns as they have hitherto done in accordance with the custom in England. But Judge Martin continued to wear the tabooed toggery in defiance of the act, saying his court did not come within the purview of the law. The attorneys for a defeated litigate are ferociously demanding that the judge be removed and the judgment he rendered declared void because he persisted in wearing the robes which have marked the British judiciary for hundreds of years. They would hardly be making the row if the judge had not decided against them. It requires little perspicacity to discern the fact that the lawyers are trying to harrass the judge for deciding against them. In plain words they are shystering and making a mock of judicial proceedings. Apparently Bigamist Collins well knew he would meet kindred spirits in Victoria.

A JUST JUDGE.

There is one county in this State that will be shunned by criminals until a new Superior Judge is elected. When Judge Wells of Contra Costa county sentenced the Selby gold robber, we had occasion to commend him. He rejected all compounding arrangements and condoning of the offense because the loot had been surrendered, and punished the crime by a stiff sentence. Since then the county was free from great crimes against property until an incautious and forgetful highwayman held up the messengers of the Central Bank of Oakland on their way to Point Richmond and robbed them of $10,000. The robber was arrested, tried in Judge Wells' court and convicted. No doubt he had figured on a short sentence for which his loot would be ample compensation. But he figured vainly. The Judge gave him forty-five years. If he should survive his term his $10,000 will amount to only $220 a year, and that is no prize.

It is often said that a judicial officer should not be commended for doing his duty. But it is not indelicate to call attention to the fact that a Judge may powerfully promote the public safety and protect life and property by doing his duty in wisdom and judgment. Contra Costa is rapidly coming to the front as one of our great counties in the vastness and variety of its industries and the rapid increase of its population. These are also the conditions in which crime festers, for wherever men are numerous and property valuable there are criminals to prey upon both. Under such circumstances the clear idea of his duty and his proper function in the community held by Judge Wells becomes a factor in the county's growth. We are of the opinion that for a long time criminals will avoid operating in Contra Costa, unless they have provided a sure retreat to a safer asylum.—San Francisco Call.

THE OLD-FASHIONED DANCE.

By Rev. A. M. Shaw.

Do I believe in dancing?
Well, I should say I do:
My father used to teach me
To knock a step or two!
'Twas not exactly waltzing
Or any fancy swing—
Sometimes I'd 'cut the back-step,"
Sometimes the "pigeon-wing."

My father played the music;
The time was double-quick;
He didn't use a fiddle,
But just a limber stick!
And on my back and shoulders
The lively notes would ring;
Then, with my hand in his hand,
We'd promenade and swing!

Sometimes he'd use a shingle,
But never mind the name;
The instrument might differ,
The music was the same!
And when the dance was over,
And father'd left the hall,
The other chaps would tell me
We'd had a splendid bawl.

I know that kind of dancing
Seems crude and out of date,
To all the modern youngsters
Who go the fancy gait.
But I shall always like it,
For 'twas my father's plan,
The very kind of dancing
It takes to make a man.

A POINTER FOR OAKLAND.

The Mayor of the city of Oakland has addressed a communication to the governing board there advocating the use of crude oil on macadamized streets. The Oakland authorities will find that they will make a horrible mess of it and disgust the people forever with oil as a dust layer unless they arrange for a liberal sprinkling of sand along with the oil. Oil applied to a hard surface, a surface where there is no accumulation of soil with which to mix, will not make a road that is desirable, even in Oakland.—Bakersfield Californian.

SOME PASSING JESTS.

"Why don't you marry Mr. Gotscadds?"

"He's too young for me."

"Too young! Why, he's sixty-five."

"That's just it. He's liable to live for fifteen more years."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The invalid called in his lawyer, and said:

"I wish to explain again to you about willing my property—"

The attorney held up his hand reassuringly.

"There, there," said he, "leave that all to me."

The patient sighed resignedly.

"I suppose I might as well," said he, turning upon his pillow; "you'll get it anyway!"—Spare Moments.

Patient—What do you think about my eye, doctor?

Doctor (replacing the bandage)—Oh, your eye will come out all right in a week or two.—Judge.

THE JABBERTALK.

(A college president has warned parents against filling their children's heads with the "dangerous nonsense" of Lewis Carroll.)

'Till brillig, and the Learned Cove
Doth burble logic dull and drab
To spoil a Poet's treasure trove
And show the Gift of Gab.

Beware the Jabbertalk, my son;
The lungs that bray, the ears that flop;
Beware the Solmn Ass and shun
The Prig's pedantic sop.

He takes his pocket rule in hand
The measurements of verse to seek—
Nonsense he cannot understand,
Unless it's done in Greek.

And as in puffish thought he sits
The Jabbertalk comes to his mind—
"Save, save your child from Carroll wild
And the March Hare's madness blind!"

One, two! one, two! and through and through
His pocket rule goes snicker-snack!
The Book is dead, and with its head
He goes clodhoppering back.

And hast thou made the Jabbertalk?
Come to my arms, my wise old frump!
"I've worked my jaw! hee-haw! hee-haw!"
He grumbles in his grump.

'Tis brillig, and the Learned Cove
Doth burble logic dull and drab
To spoil a Poet's treasure trove
And show the Gift of Gab.

THE MOST EXCLUSIVE CITY IN AMERICA.

Charleston is without doubt the most exclusive city in America. It gives nothing out to the stranger beyond its physical beauty and tempered climate. One keen observer said of it: "It has only one equal—a German principality, where almost every one is noble and all intermarried. Other places and social codes exist, of course—New York, Chicago, Denver—but not for Charleston."

A small child of that city was asked where Charleston was placed. Proudly she said: "It is between the Cooper and the Ashley rivers, which join and form the ocean."

When the Bostonian speaks grandly of the Mayflower, the Huguenot of Charlestonian smiles. He is remembering that Jean Ribaut landed a Huguenot emigration in Port Royal fifty-eight years before the Puritans landed in Massachusetts Bay.

Charleston was settled by aristocrats from France, and later from England—men who came from the court and wore the garments and spoke the language of the world's highest circle. Like New Orleans, it sprang into life as a cultured community.

When the Philadelphian speaks serenely of the Liberty Bell, the Charlestonian smiles and remembers that in 1765 South Carolina took the first step for a Continental Union, and that in Charleston was formulated the first independent constitution in any of the Colonies; also that she furnished three signers of the Declaration of Independence—Arthur Middleton, Thomas Hayward and Thomas Lynch Jr.

The Charleston negro, who belongs to "the quality" shares and echoes his master's pride of birth and social tradition. A certain Northern woman who was kindly received in Charleston gave a large ball. She asked this colored man to carry the invitations for her. In looking over the list he made several suggestions concerning people who should be crossed out and those who should be put on.

The Northern woman asked if he was quite sure he knew where all these people lived. His answer was delightful.

"Madam," he said, "if there is any person in Charleston who lives where I don't know, that person shouldn't be invited to your ball."

The first evidence of social quaintness in the town is the way the first families live. Here comes the strain of French blood. The venerable houses are placed among dense foliage, the side, never the front, of the house facing the street. In this side are the parlor and upper bedroom windows, which are never open to the public streets, but covered with wooden shutters.

Instead of a front doorbell to ring there is a small gate with a bell. This you tinkle, and a servant lets you in. There is a long piazza running the full side length of the house, which is often used as a sitting-room. The piazza is usually protected by jalousie blinds. If the formal caller finds it deserted he is shown into the reception-room, with closed shutters, but in the warm days all informal entertaining is done on the piazza.

Charleston's manners, society and behavior in drawing-room, ballroom and street are those of an older and more elegant world. Why should she change? The girls in all other parts of the South may go unchaperoned to balls, but she does not allow her girls to do it. Neither does the exclusive Philadelphian or the Knickerbocker of New York.

Other clubs use their windows as lounging places for the curious, where idle men may sit and stare at the parade of women who pass on the street. Charleston considers this vulgar.

Promoters can talk all they wish, but charm they never so wisely they can't persuade the Charlestonian to welcome with delight a horde of unidentified tourists. Cottages are rented here and there for writers and artists and quiet people, but Charleston shakes her head when approached on the subject of huge hotels which will accommodate the man with millions from the swarming centers of America.—Anne Rittenhouse in Ainslee's for September.

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes George W. Hoffman of Harper, Wash., "I had a bitter battle with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won and cured my diseases by the use of Electric Bitters. I unhesitatingly recommend them to all and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine to have cured such a bad case as mine." Sold, under guarantee to do the same for you, by Osgoods' drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington, at 50 cents a bottle. Try them today.

"Tahiti is the best of all my t' s, and I have been across the Pacific many times; it is the poet's land where it is always afternoon and my fancy turns to—well it with anticipation and pleasure." This was the expression of a world traveler who made the trip of Tahiti last summer. A reduced rate of $135.00 will be made for the voyage of September 11th. AT THE SEASIDE.

(After Charles Stuart Calverly.)

The Banker's Daughter had auburn hair,
The same as she'd worn all her years before.
(The sea wind swept through the fifteen trees
Which shaded the seventeen miles of shore.)

The piper he piped on his flutesome flute,
The oboe oboed, and the loud bassoon
Made melody sweet, while the toot-toot-toot
Of the bugle completed this seaside tune.

The Banker's Daughter swirled down the hall
On the arm of her awfully wealthy dad.
Thought I, "If I've got any nerve at all,
I'll win the Lady." (That wasn't so bad.)

I quivered the uppermost lid of my eye
As I thoughtfully gazed on her auburn hair,
As she passed I could hear her exclaim, "Oh, my!
Who's the nervy fellow that's over there?"

It's useless quite to extend this tale—
It's been told half a million times before.
It's exactly the same in the river vale
Or on mountain top or on sandy shore.

That "half a million" is just the word—
She had it—this maid with the auburn hair.
(But here is the funniest thing you've heard:
The agencies rate me a millionaire!)

HOME NEWS THAT WILL INTEREST THE WOMEN HAPPENINGS IN SOCIAL SOCIETY

ROMANCE OF THE SUBWAY

NEW YORK, August 28.—After ten months of hum-drum existence, from the melo-dramatic point of view, the Subway has developed its first real romance—a spicy love story. The spice will be added by mama today.

The heroine is Helen Dowd, nineteen years old, the handsome, buxom, black-eyed young woman with chestnut hair and olive skin who presides over the newstand at the east side station of the underground road at Bleecker street. She has been employed there only about a month, but in that period has been generally remarked by Subway patrons for her good looks.

Among the regular patrons aforesaid is William Bordeau, who is a member of the New York Fire Department, attached to a downtown company, and who lives in West One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street. One day he stopped at the newstand and bought a paper. She smiled, and he blushed and was smitten. The next day Bardeau bought another paper, and she smiled and he blushed again. It seems to have been a case of love at first sight, for on the second day he arranged to bunch all his meal-time allowance—three hours a day—into one long, rapturous period, to be spent every day at the newstand. On Wednesday night he popped the question. The fair Helen asked time to consider. Yesterday she told him she would accept. It was agreed they would marry. Next month.

When a World reporter called last night at the Dowd home at No. 235 West Nineteenth street, Mrs. Dowd came to the door with a fine-looking curly-haired baby boy in her arms. A little girl and two other little boys came and stood by her side.

"Helen engaged!" she exclaimed. "Impossible. She is entirely too young to think of getting married. She has not been keeping company with any one. She is never allowed out after ten o'clock at night. I never heard of Bardeau. He has never been here and I do not believe there is any such man. Her father is very strict."

As the reporter was leaving he met Helen Dowd herself.

"Oh, my goodness!" she cried, in evident alarm. "How did my engagement get out? I only mentioned it to a friend. Did you tell my mother? How did she take it? What did she say? Denied it, of course! Now, I'll get a good old-fashioned scolding, sure!"

"Well," after apparently giving the whole proposition a rapid whirl in her mind; "it's true, any way. Only, I suppose I'll have to deny it to my mother."

And Helen dashed upstairs in alarm and with no misgivings as to the probable effect on Mamma Dowd and the strict Papa Dowd of this, the first real romance of the Subway.

AGED MAN SUES FOR DIVORCE

NEW YORK, August 28.—Justice Amend of the Supreme Court has signed an order discontinuing a suit for divorce, the complainant in which is a man eighty-six years old. Alois Suss, a wholesale cigar manufacturer, of No. 404 East Seventy-fifth street. His wife, Eliza, has lived for years at No. 420 Eighteenth street, Chicago. The two were married in this city in 1868 and lived together until 1890, when Mrs. Suss left her husband and went to Chicago.

In his complaint the octogenarian husband charges his wife with improper conduct with her brother-in-law, Joseph Freund, who was the husband of her dead sister.

Lawyer William Greenthal, of No. 49 Chambers street, obtained the consent of Justice Dickey, of Brooklyn, to serving the defendant by publication, but she put in a vigorous defense and brought a counter suit for alimony.

She asserted that the venerable Suss's charges against her were unfounded; that she had left her husband because of his cruel and inhuman treatment and because her life was in danger.

She also asserted that when she left Suss she went to Chicago and became housekeeper for her brother-in-law, and helped to educate her two nephews, the children of her dead sister.

Mrs. Suss further charged her aged husband with misconduct with a woman who acted as his housekeeper in the East Seventy-fifth street house.

It was also alleged that a girl now nine years old was born to Suss and the woman, and that his real motive in bringing a suit for divorce was to get rid of his genuine wife so that all of his property could descend to the nine-year-old girl.

Suss belongs to a number of benevolent orders, and by their rules the insurance money must go to a member's wife upon his death. The amount which will be paid over by these orders upon the death of Suss is about $4,000.

It was when Suss thought he was on his deathbed a few weeks ago that he decided to divorce his wife. At that time he did not expect to live more than a few weeks. He is still practically in a dying condition, but his physicians say that he may live several months.

Mrs. Suss made such a vigorous defense of the suit against her that the old man first became alarmed, and then as memories of their early married life came back he became anxious to see his wife again before he died. A meeting was arranged and as a result of it the old couple have settled their differences and effected a reconciliation.

RICH WOMAN SLEEPS IN PARK

NEW YORK, August 28.—Richly dressed, handsome and bright-eyed Mrs. Minnie Munk, when she appeared before Magistrate Breen in the Tombs Police Court, did not look as if she had been "sleeping for the last few weeks in the parks and other public places," as Probation Officer James Walsh declared.

She was charged with disorderly conduct by the law firm of Brogart & Brogart, attorneys for David Munk, her husband, but Magistrate Breen sent her to Bellevue for observation as to her mental condition. Mrs. Munk had said she had no home. Her husband, David Munk, is a diamond broker and merchant in Maiden lane. He was arrested last March on his wife's charge of non-support. He promised to pay $10 a week for the support of his wife and four small children, and he was paroled in the custody of Probation Officer Walsh, who said that he has not failed to pay the stipulated $10 weekly.

Walsh said that at the time of Munk's arrest Mrs. Munk was living in an expensively furnished apartment in West 115th street. She was wearing gowns so costly as to attract attention. Since then, Walsh said, Mrs. Munk had placed her furniture and gowns in storage and for the last few weeks has been sleeping in the parks and other public places.

He said the Children's Society is caring for the four children.

In court her brother, Samuel Pfeifer, of Elizabeth, N. J., appeared against her, but Mrs. Munk protested that he was no relative of hers. She said her husband was well able to pay her $100 a week, for, she said, he spent twice that sum on other women. Magistrate Breen said:

"This woman is apparently insanely jealous of her husband. He has told me he is willing and able to provide for her and her children, but he will not live with her, as he is in fear of his life. There is no law to compel him to live with her.

"I think brooding over this has unsettled the woman's mind, and a month or so in a sanitarium will do her a lot of good and perhaps permanently restore to her her mental faculties."

Mrs. Munk protested that she was of sound mind and said she was being railroaded to an insane asylum.

JUDGE PAYS WEDDING FEE

NEW YORK, August 28.—"All's well that ends well," reflected Magistrate Moss as Rose Geist and Benjamin Wassermann, hand in hand, left the Essex Market Police Court to be married

Rose, a pretty girl of eighteen years, had run away from the home of her uncle, No. 165 Attorney street. The police found her the other day, and Magistrate Cornell put her in charge of Miss Anna Doyle, the court probation officer, and ordered that she be sent back to Russia, whence she came three months ago.

Rose confessed to Miss Doyle that she was in love with Wassermann, who lives at No. 102 Attorney street. They were taken to court yesterday, and Wassermann told Magistrate Moss he loved Rose and would have married her, but that he was out of work and had no money.

"Schwartz," the Magistrate ordered, "take this happy pair to Rabbi Cohen and have them married.

"But the rabbi asks a fee, Your Honor," Schwartz explained. "No money, no wedding."

"I'll pay it," said Mr. Moss.

LOVER FAILS EASTERN GIRL

PORTLAND, August 28.—With the hope burning in her bosom that she was to be married on her arrival in Portland, and hereafter have a happy and comfortable home, Miss Bessie Able, of Pittsburg, Pa., came West. She is now going about with a broken heart, as the man she intended to marry has failed to appear.

The man whom she intended to marry is John P. Clark, a bartender, a man whom she has known from her childhood. Miss Able, who is about twenty-two years of age, arrived in Portland three days ago, but no one was at the train to meet her. Being without support, she is now staying at the Salvation Army Refuge Home, Fifteenth and Hancock streets. She has asked the assistance of the police to find Clark, but all their efforts are in vain.

HURT WHILE TRYING TO ELOPE

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., August 28.—William Braun, a farm hand, persuaded Louisa Gessler, fifteen years old, a pretty housemaid to elope with him, but Mrs. William Hahn, of Metuchen, by whom the girl was employed, suspecting all was not right, kept the girl in her room.

In trying to get out, the girl jumped or fell from a second-story window, injuring her spine so badly that she may be crippled for life. She is now in the hospital and Braun is in jail. He takes the whole affair as a joke.

Charcoal is a great purifier. A piece in the icebox keeps it sweet smelling and the air pure.

A piece of charcoal in a flower vase helps to freshen flowers.

A woman will do without something she needs in order to save money to purchase something she doesn't want.

NEAR DEATH, SEES GIRL WEDDED

NEWPORT, R. I., August 28.—There was a sad wedding here recently. The bride, a very beautiful girl, is the daughter of Hermann Weiner, of New York, who is not expected to live a week. Thought he at first objected to his prospective son-in-law, Mr. Weiner was anxious to see his daughter married.

The bride was Miss Bessie Weiner, the bridegroom Harry Zeidman, of New York. The marriage took place at noon at the residence of the bride's parents, on Prospect Hill street. Only immediate relatives attended. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Rubinstein, of Providence.

It was originally planned to have the wedding in November.

KOUMISS.

Boil briskly for one minute four tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and four tablespoonfuls of cold water. Add one cup boiled water and two quarts fresh milk. Bottle and stand up in the bottom of the refrigerator three days. On the third day lay the bottle down carefully on one side. At the end of five days it will be sweet koumiss, and ready to use, though most invalids find it more refreshing at the end of seven days, when it is in perfect condition, slightly acid and like whipped cream all the way through.

Siphon bottles, such as carbonated waters come in, are best for koumiss; beer bottles are next, though any bottle or jug will do if tightly corked.

Tops of fruit jars clean easily if soaked for a time in sour milk. Like any number of things, they are more easily washed with a small scrubbing brush than with a cloth. In fact, the modern woman keeps a variety of brushes hanging by her sink with which to wash jars, bottles, milk jugs and pressed glass (as well as the more expensive cut), and many a fastidious woman seldom puts her hands in the washing water, finding little mops and brushes more economical (as well as daintier) than trying to keep the hands in good condition with lotions and creams.

PARROT IS LUCID WITNESS

NEW YORK, August 26.—Parrots have been known to tell family secrets, scare away burglars and do all manner of saucy things, but the honor of testifying in court goes first to the polly that proved a lucid witness before Magistrate Baker in Harlem when a question of ownership was to be decided.

As further evidence of the bird's intelligence it was subjected to the same treatment that any other witness would receive for creating a disturbance in the court room, and was put out when it persisted in shouting: "Yer Honor!" "Yer Honor!"

The parrot is said to have escaped from a cage in the home of Joseph Jacobs, No. 106 West One Hundred and Thirty-third street, and was captured by Charles McDonald, of One Hundred and Thirty-second street and Lenox Avenue, who climbed up a tree to get the truant.

McDonld said that as he had gone to so much trouble to capture the bird he had considered it his property and had made a present of it to John Tiernan. Testimony showed that the parrot took offense at being buffeted about in this manner and had bitten the finger of Tiernan.

Jacobs was in court, said he was the original owner and asked that the bird be returned to him. McDonald and Tiernan also claimed ownership.

"Where is this parrot?" asked Magistrate Baker.

"A court officer put it out because it was disorderly," answered McDonald.

"Bring it into court," ordered the Magistrate.

When the parrot was taken before the bench Jacobs said: "Sir, if you will let this parrot appear as a witness I will prove that he's mine."

The Magistrate granted the request.

"What's your name?" said Jacobs to the parrot.

"Jacobs," replied the bird instantly and clearly.

"How old are you?"

"Three years, and I am a nice Polly, even if I did run away."

"That will do," said the Magistrate, looking at Jacobs. "Take the bird."

REFUSES ANY CEREMONY

SEATTLE, August 28.—Justice of the Peace Davis has refused to perform the ceremony making L. O. Lander, aged 63 years, the husband of Lizzie Alexander, aged 16 years. Lander is a rancher on Vashon Island. The girl is the daughter of a neighboring woman, who gave her reluctant consent to the union so that Lander could secure the license.

Lander walked into the courtroom of Justice Davis just before the noon hour. He led his intended bride by the hand. Walking up to Justice Davis he handed him a document, that proved to be a license to wed the child he was leading. Justice Davis hesitated a moment and then flatly refused to perform the ceremony, saying it was unnatural.

DESERTS WIFE AFTER THREE WEEKS

PHILADELPHIA, August 28.—Deserted by her husband and turned adrift by her mother, Mrs. Cecilia Stahl feels that her short romance has had a sad and untimely end. Mrs. Stahl is only sixteen years old, and until three weeks ago was the belle of Lock street, a squalid little thoroughfare which bears the picturesque appellation of "The Venice of Manayunk."

Cecilia is a daughter of Joseph Schultz. Three weeks ago John Stahl, a Manayunk machinist, came courting the fair-haired girl. They were married, and two weeks after the marriage Stahl went away, after having pawned his bride's wedding ring.

Cecelia thought back to the moonlight boat rides they used to have on the canal, wondering that men could be so perfidious, and in such a short time.

She swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest on the charge of desertion, and when he was arraigned before Magistrate Grellis be admitted that the charges were true, even to the assertion that he had torn his wife's clothes, forced her to go barefoot, and given her only a nickel now and then out of his wages of $15 a week for support.

The Magistrate held him in $600 bail for trial.

Then the young bride repented and sent him $5. When her mother heard of it she gave her daughter a good thrashing and told her to leave the house. At present, Mrs. Stahl is without a husband and without a home.

HE HAD NOT KISSED HER.

On Sixth and Broadway yesterday afternoon a handsomely dressed woman with a profusion of blonde hair was walking by the side of her husband. As the couple passed a department store the woman's attention was attracted by a tailor made gown, and she left her husband to examine it more closely. When she returned she seemed annoyed.

"You never look at anything that interests me any more," she complained. "You don't care how I dress. You don't care for me any more. Why, you haven't even kissed me for a month."

"Indeed! I am sorry, but it is not my fault," said the man to whom she had just been speaking.

Turning, the woman looked at him, gasped and mumbled out an apology. She had taken the arm of a stranger.

STREET ETIQUETTE.

While walking with a lady, the gentleman should take the side next the street.

One salutation is all that civility requires when passing a person more than once on a public promenade.

If the lady with whom you are walking is saluted by another gentleman, acknowledge the same by removing your hat.

The gentleman should raise his hat when asking a lady's pardon for an inadvertence, whether she is known to him or not.

Should you desire to converse with a lady you should happen to meet, do not detain her, but turn and walk in her direction.

While walking with a lady in a crowded thoroughfare and obliged to proceed singly, the gentleman should precede the lady.

WOMEN ASK FOR AN APOLOGY

ST. LOUIS, August 28.—"In the name of every clean and intelligent woman in civilization we demand that you at once retract and apologize for your infamous insinuations."

In these words Mrs. Johanna Schmidt, president, and Mrs. Fernande Richter, secretary of the Ladies' Committee of the German-American National Alliance, through a letter sent to the Rev. Dr. W. B. Palmore, editor of the St. Louis Christian Advocate, demands that the minister recall that part of a sermon preached in Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Sunday evening, in which he intimated that the women who had signed the petition to Gov. Folk against the enforcement of the Sunday closing law belonged to a class that he said he thought had left St. Louis at the close of the World's Fair.

BEAUTY NOTES.

A physician in search for remedies for human life finds that laughter stands very high in the list of prophylactics. The effect of mere cheerfulness as a health promoter is well known, but an occasional outburst of downright laughter is the heroic remedy. It is a matter of everyday experience, says the authority in question, that one feels the better for a good laugh, an explosion of laughter being in truth a "nerve storm, comparable in its effect to a thunderstorm in nature, doing good by dissipating those oppressive clouds of care which sometimes darken the mental horizon." This authority assures us that the memorable adage, "Laugh and grow fat," rests on a sound philosophical basis. Portly people are not given to laughter because they are fat; they are fat because they laugh.

There is nothing like housework for physical culture. In the various complex movements performed by the different sets of muscles during the innumerable evolutions incidental to housework we have an admirable system of gymnastics peculiarly adapted to the needs of women. A certain amount of exercise which arouses and interests the mental faculties while occupying the activities of the bodily organs is necessary to health and housework undoubtedly complies with both of those conditions. In many a household the daughters take their share of the lighter branches of the work, but in many another establishment dusting is considered undignified, polishing plebeian and bedmaking a bore and so the womenfolk leave the work to hired hands, while they amuse themselves at so-called physical culture classes, where, perhaps, they beat the air with Indian clubs, a form of exercise considered more dignified, if less useful, than beating carpets with rattan canes.

The man who discarded the two buttons on the back of his coat as soon as he discovered that he could not tell why they were placed there, might have scorned the ruffle with which a certain wise cook invariably trimmed the bottom of her kitchen apron. However, when asked why she took so much trouble, the cook answered that the ruffle was meant to catch any chance drop of grease or similar dropping and to prevent the same from attaching to her always immaculate skirts.

BOXING

FIGHTERS CANNOT AGREE UPON REFEREE FOR BATTLE

No referee has yet been chosen for the fight on September 9th between Britt and Nelson. This is the third day of the deadlock on the question between Billy Nolan, the manager for Nelson, and Willie Britt, manager for Jimmie Britt.

The selection, however, has been narrowed down to one of three men, Jim Jeffries, George Siler, of Chicago and Eddie Graney of San Francisco.

This ultimatum was reached after a wordy conference last night, at which it was thought the matter would be decided because of the ultimatum given on Saturday night by Manager Coffroth of the Colma Club.

Mr. Coffroth, however, did what he had said, Saturday night, he would do, in the event of Willie Britt and Nolan being unable to come to an agreement as to the referee, that is he named Jeffries, Siler and Graney as the men from whom the referee was to be selected. If the opposing parties could not find a referee in that trio, the fight would be declared off and the $2500 deposited by each of the fighters as a guarantee that they would select a referee last Saturday night would be forfeited to the club.

This sum, under the agreement, could have been declared forfeited last Saturday night when the fighters' representatives failed to select a referee, but Coffroth consistently continued the matter until last night.

STILL APART.

When the representatives of Britt and Nelson met again last night, it was evident that they were as far apart as they had been on the preceding night, whereupon Mr. Coffroth named the three men above referred to.

It was that gentleman's purpose to insist upon Britt and Nolan selecting a referee then and there, but Britt asked for another day and the request was granted by Coffroth on the understanding that Nolan would confer with his principal on the subject and that Britt would do the same thing with his principal on the subject before coming together again tonight. He granted the extension of time, he said, but he was really ashamed for doing so. If no selection be made tonight, the fight will be declared off and the $5000 will be forfeited to the Colma Athletic Club, though Manager Coffroth declared that that sum will not reimburse the organization for the outlay it has already made.

Of the three possible referees named Jeffries is favored by Britt, Siler is favored by Nelson and Graney is the representative of the management of the Colma Club. Britt has a prejudice against Siler. Nolan's criticism of Jeffries goes only to that man's "experience" as a referee. Neither Nolan nor Britt has urged anything against Graney.

If any choice is made it would seem as if the lucky man would be either Jeffries or Graney, with the latter as having the better chances.

SMITH IS NAMED.

At last night's conference Eddie Smith of Oakland was named by Willie Britt.

Nolan made no objection to him, save to say that he did not know him very well, and that Nelson did not know him, but what he had heard about him was of an entirely complimentary character.

At last night's conference Jack Welch was easily disposed of for referee because of opposition of the club. Then the discussion began.

"I will propose the name of Eddie Smith of Oakland," said Willie Britt.

Nolan—I haven't known Eddie Smith long enough. What I hear of him is that he is a very good man and is well liked. Nelson also does not know him, and the same objection is made to him as there was to Phil Wand.

Britt—Those are all the names I have to suggest.

Mr. Coffroth asked Nolan if he had any names to offer.

Nolan—Any of the names mentioned last night would suit me.

Britt—You mean the names you mentioned or the names we all mentioned?

Nolan said the names they had discussed.

Britt was opposed to going over the old ground again.

Nolan—You take your foremost man and I'll take my foremost man, and we'll toss a coin to see who will act as referee. You take Jeffries if you will. I'll take Siler. He's a man who has refereed fights all over the country. I want to make an even break. We can't come to an agreement by argument. Let us take a gambler's chance with it.

OBJECTS TO SILER.

Britt—The trouble with Siler is that he has criticized Britt severely.

Nolan—Some of the candidates you have named have criticized me and criticized Nelson severely.

Britt—From my own way of thinking we wouldn't be gambling with either. Jeffries is not interested in me. I never spoke twenty words to him in my life.

Nolan—I never spoke two to him.

Britt—Siler is an honest man.

Nolan—You admit that he is honest.

Britt—Both are honest men.

Nolan—What chances, then, would we be taking in tossing a coin?

Britt—You know that Siler has strongly criticized Britt.

Nolan—You know that he is a newspaper man and that sometimes it becomes his duty to criticize. It's his business.

Britt said they would be taking no chances with Jeffries. He did not know whether Jeffries would act. He might want too much money. But the public wanted him and he would add importance to the fight.

Nolan said the club paid for the referee, but he was willing to put up toward half of the fee if Britt would go down the line with him. He declared that he thought Siler would want as much money as Jeffries.

Thus the talk continued for twenty minutes, and when at last there was a lull, Manager Coffroth took a hand. He said that the agents seemed to be as far apart as they were Saturday night. He proposed to name some men from whom a referee could be selected. If no selection should be made from that list he would himself appoint a referee, and if that selection should not be satisfactory the fight would be called off and the money posted be forfeited.

Britt then stated that Siler was an old man and not a strong man and that he could not go between men and make them break away.

Nolan said it was not necesary for him to go through men. He would control them with his eye. Nelson, he said, would look out for himself in the breakaway.

Britt said that Jimmie Britt would do the same thing.

Nolan asked how Recap of Philadelphia would do. The latter had refereed more fights than any man in the country, not excepting Siler.

Britt said he didn't know him.

COFFROTH INTERFERES.

Mr. Coffroth again spoke about his intention of bringing the colloquy to and end, when Nelson's man spoke:

Nolan—I want you to understand that you have nothing to do with the referee. He is to be selected by the fighters. I will not stand his selection by the club. We will select one or we will forfeit our money.

Coffroth—I don't want to have anything to do with the selection of a referee, but we must have a referee before the men go into the ring or there may be few people to see them when they get into the ring. I am going to mention three men and you can agree among yourselves on one of them. If you don't, I will name a referee and if he is not satisfactory, the fight will be called off and the money will be forfeited. I mention the names of Jeffries, Siler and Eddie Graney.

Nolan—I am not going to allow any third party to select a referee. I'll select a referee.

Coffroth—But when will you do it. The club has an interest in this matter and unless a referee is selected there can't be a fight. If you can't agree upon one of these men, we'll close up.

Nolan—You have a right to suggest, but no right to name a referee under the agreement.

Coffroth—I am perfectly familiar with the requirements of the agreement. (Addressing Britt). Will you take one of these men.

Britt—To be frank with you, I think I can bring Mr. Nolan around to Jeffries. If you will give us another day, I think everything will be all right, now that we have three names to work with. That is better than it was Saturday night.

Mr. Coffroth granted a continuance until tonight with the understanding that Britt and Nolan would in the meantime get an understanding with their principals on the subject.

SATURDAY NIGHT.

Britt opened the ball Saturday night.

Britt—Well, I name Jim Jeffries for referee.

Nolan—I consider Jeffries one of the best men who ever entered the ring, but as a referee, he is a new man in the business. There is no one who appreciates Jeffries as a fighter more than I do, but in this case knowing the feeling and the animosity of the men who are to fight, I must say that I want a man of experience; a man who has been tried in the refereeing of fights.

Britt—Well, I will name Harry Corbett for referee.

Nolan—Harry Corbett is one of the best men I have known in the sporting world. Same objection to Corbett.

Britt—I consider a man who has fought his way from sparring partner, inside of a year, to the top of the heap and has been in the ring, who has become the champion and who has been compelled to leave the ring because he can get no one to fight him, is thoroughly competent to referee this fight. For that reason, I think Jim Jeffries a good man to referee this fight and I have not spoken twenty-five words to him in my life.

Nolan—He has refereed only two fights in his life; this fight will require a competent man; a man who is thoroughly up in the game. It needs a man who has had plenty of experience.

FAVORS JEFFRIES.

Britt—I think that Jim Jeffries is that man.

Nolan—With a man without experience, we would have the trouble they had at the fight last night. We want a man with experience who would keep the seconds and others from hollering and making such a disturbance.

Britt—I think that everything that Jeffries did would be satisfactory. He would be a man who would be respected and a man who could command respect and enforce it, too. He is a man who would only have to raise his hand or to shake his head and the people would mind him. He is a man who could take a man who was making trouble and fling him outside of the house. I think such a man is competent to referee a boxing contest.

Nolan—Besides, we ought to get a man who understands the rules.

KNOWS RULES.

Britt—Besides, we ought to get a man who understands the rules. I don't know why a man who has won the championship could not referee a fight.

Nolan—The best actor isn't always the best critic.

Britt—I think that everyone will agree that Jeffries is the very best selection.

Coffroth—Did Harry Corbett say that he would referee the fight?

Britt—I never asked him.

Coffroth—He told me that he would never enter the ring again.

Nolan—It is on record that Harry Corbett said that he would never enter the ring again. This is going to be a fight which will need a man of experience to referee it.

Britt—That is why I would like to have Jeffries referee it.

Nolan—Jeffries is a great fighter. That can not be denied. I have not a word to say against him on that score, but I would not like to have him act as referee.

OBJECTS TO CORBETT.

Britt—If Harry Corbett will act as referee will you accept?

Nolan—The objection to Jeffries applies to Corbett.

Britt—This experience talk is a bugaboo. A man who has fought in the ring himself is just as competent as need be to decide a contest. I have been looking into this referee business and I know that all it requires is for a man to be cool and collected and I think that the heavyweight champion of the world is able to do that. I think that Jeffries has more at stake than any of the fighters.

Nolan—I do not question and I have never questioned his honesty and I would not question it, but it is experience that I am looking after. I want a man who has refereed many fights. We don't want any new man—no man new in the game.

Britt—There is no question about the ability of Jeffries and Harry Corbett to referee this fight. I am satisfied with their experience and their ability and their honesty. A man who has risen to be champion satisfies me.

Nolan—Men of experience are not always able to do the right thing at all times. This is going to be a fight in which there is going to be plenty of things doing to require the referee to keep his eyes open all the time.

There was a silence for several minutes and at length Mr. Coffroth asked:

Coffroth—Can't we get along any faster than this?

BRITT RESPONSIBLE.

Nolan—The other side is responsible for the delay. I am willing to listen to any names they will suggest.

Britt—I have named Jim Jeffries and Harry Corbett and those are good names.

Coffroth—You (addressing Nolan) won't take them?

Nolan—We won't take them.

Coffroth—You are not (addressing both) going to dead-lock here, are you?

Britt—Every name I have mentioned has been objected to. I have named Jeffries. I did that because he is a good man and qualified and also because his name, connected with the fight, would give it the clincher as the biggest thing of the century.

Another delay was experienced.

Coffroth—Will either of you suggest somebody else so that we may get along?

SILER SUGGESTED.

Nolan—How would George Siler of Chicago do?

Britt—He certainly is a competent man. How would Tim Hurst of New York do?

Nolan—I understand he was the correspondent of Jimmy Britt at Philadelphia.

Britt—I understand the same thing about Siler for Nelson. But that, of course, would not make any difference because Siler is competent.

Coffroth—Willie, have you any objection to make to Siler?

Britt—I have named my man, Jim Jeffries.

Nolan—I have named my man, George Siler.

Britt—But he has been called on to criticise the fighters. Probably he has an article in some publiaction, this week, telling how Nelson is going to win this fight.

Nolan—There is hardly any referee who has not an opinion of his own on a matter of this kind. He is entitled to his opinion.

FEARS PREJUDICE.

Britt—When a man is casting an opinion abroad as regards a special man winning a fight, he might have a leaning toward that man if he were required to decide the fight.

Nolan—This man has refereed more fights than any man in the country. He is a man with some experience. He is a practical man.

Coffroth—Don't you (addressing Nolan) want Tim Hurst?

Nolan—No. I don't know of any great events that he has refereed.

Coffroth—You won't have Siler, Willie?

Britt—No.

Coffroth—Siler is out.

Britt—Whom (addressing Nolan) do you want?

Nolan—I want Siler, but that is impossible now.

NO OTHER SUGGESTIONS.

Coffroth—Have you any other suggestion to make, Willie.

Britt—No.

Coffroth—We're working a process of elimination that must reach something. Do you want to go any further?

Britt—I have suggested a couple of good men.

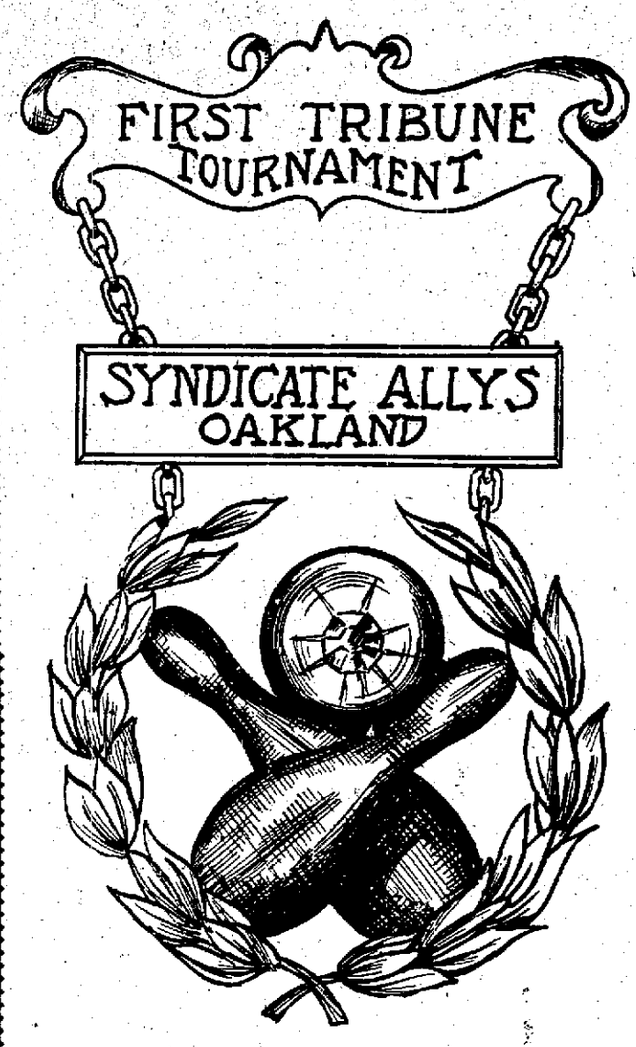

Coffroth—Neither one of you has suggested a referee who has ever refereed a fight in San Francisco.

A newspaper man, who was present, said that Tim Hurst, who had been named by Britt, had refereed a fight in that city.

Cofforth—I want to try to get you down to something. There are lots of referees

Like a squadron of well-trained cavalry, Rip Van Haltren's erratic bunch ambushed Russ Hall's Siwashes yesterday, first at Idora Park and again at Recreation Park. The Indians from the north were not only ambushed, but were scalped, beaten, disrupted, broken up, until their own mother would not recognize them. The trouncing that the locals gave the cellar champions was such that San Francisco should have little trouble in duplicating the feat during the coming week.

By taking the double-header yesterday the Commuters secured a good lead at the head of the percentage column, and shoved the Siwashes down until they barely can be seen.

There was one real catastrophe in the afternoon game. King Kelley, Oakland's invincible second baseman, made an error. An easy chance ambled toward the agile Kelley. He scooped it up with his accustomed grace, but toyed with it until the runner was safe.

"Kelley, you're rotten!" shouted the crowd, which simply hated to see the youngster fail to play his thirty-fourth game without an error. As Kelley handled nine chances perfectly yesterday the one lone juggle simply marred a magnificent record. The fans without exception would still have Kelley an errorless, immaculate second baseman if it were possible to rub that one error out.

Dunleavy, both in the morning and afternoon session gave an exhibition of fielding, base running and batting that was enough to thrill any fan. He made five hits in eight times up, stole two bases and made eight put outs.

Doc Moskiman, the Adonis of the league, played an errorless first base in both games, made nineteen put outs and one assist. He batted an even .500 and nearly secured two home runs. In the morning game he put a beautiful swat over the right field fence and in the afternoon duplicated the hit, but there was a groan from a thousand fans because it went just a foot outside the foul line.

Van Haltren, Francks, Kruger and Kelley batted like Lajoies.

The team leaves for the north with a reputation as a baseball team. They played big league ball for the week just past and a continuance of the same kind of playing—the snappy, enthusiastic, whole-souled kind—will make them real competitors in the pennant race. The scores:

GREAT REPUBLIC STAKES WILL NOT BE RENEWED

"Big Bill" Knapp leads the jockeys in the matter of winning mounts for the Saratoga season.

The latest report form Saranac Lake is, to the effect that there is every prospect of a return of health to John Boden Jr.

C. J. Fitzgerald has announced that the jumps at Brighton Beach will be rebuilt after the fashion of those in the field at Saratoga. They will be ready for the first meeting at that course in 1906.

Flower King and Crowshade, a pair of Tichenor disappointments, are reported dead. A barn in which they were quartered near New York was struck by lightning and they were reported killed. It is said that they were insured for $5000 each.

An old timer gives this advice: "When they get to Sheepshead Bay, back the horses that won at Saratoga; but that only goes for the first week. The good ones that have been resting up at the Long Island tracks will then get busy and there will be some digging for the form again."

Tom Welsh, it is said, wired W. O'B. Macdonough, who is in California, last Saturday night that it would be well for him to be present at the running of the Futurity next Saturday. Thus, it would seem, the handler of Ormondale regards Ormonde's son as having a particularly good chance of winning the rich event at Sheepshead Bay.

But it is particularly certain, nevertheless, that next year will see a reduction in the value of some of the most important stakes at Saratoga. The $50,000 Great Republic Stakes will not be renewed. That is certain. It was not worth such an outlay in either running, judging from the fields that went to the post. A reduction of the added money to several rich stakes therefore, can be looked for, but the purses in the overnight events will doubtless remain the same. As far as the new revenue from the books is concerned, it is safe to say that it will be placed in effect at all Jockey Club tracks. John Cavanaugh, it is believed, has secured the special information privilege from all of the racing associations at a certain figure, so that the books will be asked to pay the same toll, $12 a day, at all tracks in future. If there should be a desire to raise this tariff there could be no logical objection. It would seem, for if it is legal to buy information from Cavanagh at $2 a race, there is nothing illegal in a charge of $5 or even $10 a race. But the old plan of buying $57 worth of badges each day for the privilege of entering the track to make book can never be revived, according to men of high legal status who have carefully looked into the matter.

Judge Murphy brought his investigation of Jockey's Foy's case to a close at Latonia the other day. The rider was granted permission to pilot only the horses of Hugh McCarren Jr., his employer. Foy's father is dissatisfied with the treatment of his son and is making strenuous efforts to annul the contract held by McCarren. The contract has still four years to run from September 21. McCarren is obligated to pay the youngster $20 monthly and all earnings from outside mounts. Up to date McCarren, according to Jockey Foy, has fulfilled the contract to the letter. Several owners are, however, anxious to secure the services of the rider and it would not occasion much surprise if in the near future Foy would be attached to another stable. Among those who have opened negotiations with McCarren is Fred Burlew, who, unless the changes his plans, will campaign a select string the coming winter on California tracks.

The fact that several jockeys have been investigated recently, with the end not yet, and that there has been much criticism of the practice of riders openly conferring with noted bookmakers and plungers in the paddock, has brought to light some of the suspicions that have been prevalent for a long time," says the New York Sun's Saratoga correspondent. "It was during the Brighton meeting that two well known jockeys were accused in certain quarters of pulling horses, but no official action was taken because of a lack of conclusive evidence of wrongdoing. A year ago one of these operators attracted much attention by his repeated conferences with jockeys in the paddock. He seemed to have something to say to all of the best known riders, and while there was no proof that there was anything wrong, it did not look well on the surface. Now the practice is attracting attention again, and it will not be at all surprising if the turf authorities in another year put a stop to it by confining the jockeys to a special enclosure all the afternoon, except when it is time for them to climb into the saddle. Just why a leading bookmaker or a well-known plunger should be permitted to talk with the jockeys before each race does not seem clear, particularly when the public is never let into the secrets, if there are any. The policy of 'no scandal' has been exploded and the sooner the turf authorities take the bull by the horns the better it will be for racing."

That the New York tracks will stick to the $3 admission tariff for the remainder of the racing season, at least, is a generally accepted idea. It is the rate to be charged by the Coney Island Jockey Club beginning at Sheepshead Bay next Saturday, and it is understood that Gravesend, Brighton and Belmont Park will follow suit. While the Jamaica and Aqueduct tracks have not made known their plans as yet, it is believed that they will be in line, too, unless that they feel that the ring revenue, that is, the $12 per day from each bookmaker for advance information, will warrant a reduction to the old prices. The Jamaica track is at a particular disadvantage in this respect, for the reason that the field enclosure can probably accommodate probably more spectators than at any other New York tracks. The field stand is as large as the one at Belmont Park and is so situated that a splendid view of the races can be had. At $1 a head the Jamaica field stand therefore would be played off the boards to the detriment of the grandstand enclosure, and because of that it is said that the Metropolitan Jockey Club has been seriously thinking of throwing the entire track open to the public at a general rate of $2. The Aqueduct track has no field stand, so that the public cannot dodge a $3 tariff if it is charged.

Of all the race meetings held at the present time, that at Chester, England, has probably the longest record, as an order bearing date January 10, 1571, is extant, which provides for the Sadler's ball, which was of silk, being changed into a silver bell, of the value of three shillings and four pence; which bell was to be the prize for the horse "which with speed of running, then should runne before all others." In 1610, the one silver bell was changed into three "cuppe," and the race was then known as "St. George's Race," Another change was then made in 1623, when "one faire silver cuppe," worth about £8, was substituted for three cups. The Chester Cup, as it is known at present, was first run for in 1824. Horse races took place as early at 1590, in the forest of Galtres, to the east of York, the prize in this case also being a small bell, with which the head of the winner was decorated. When the River Ouse was frozen over in 1607, a horse race took place upon it, the course being from the tower at the Marygate end, through the great arch of Ouse bridge, to the Crane at Skeldergate Postern.

Stewards August Belmont, F. R. Hitchcock, H. K. Knapp and Andrew Miller got together for a meeting in the clubhouse recently and disposed of Jockey Harry W. Baird by revoking his license. The cause of the revocation, according to the statement of the meeting issued by Assistant Secretary Algernon Daingerfield, was that the apprentice allowance had been procured under false pretenses. Robert Nicholson, who had the contract on this boy, was ruled off the turf for practices in contravention of the rules of racing.

Andrew Miller will represent the Jockey Club at the Sheepshead Bay meeting.

Licenses were granted to the following: Trainers—G. C. Baker, William Cahill, A. Davis, M. K. Kittleman, John McCormack, H. H. Smith, U. S. Wishard. Jockeys—Charles Garner, Howard McDonald, Harry Noone, J. R. Schaffner.

That the Saratoga Racing Association will make money after all can be stated without fear of contradiction. The attendance has been extraordinarily good, especially on Saturdays, while the revenue from the bookmakers in the shape of toll for information has helped materially. Before the meeting began and prior to the new arrangement with the bookmakers, it was generally believed that the Saratoga Association would sustain a loss, particularly for the reason that it would have to dig deep into the pocket to guarantee some of the most valuable stakes, but the unexpected prosperity has changed the complexion of affairs so completely that there is a feeling of intense satisfaction on the part of the stockholders.

R. B. Parker of New Orleans, stopped at Latonia the other day on his way to New York. He says the yellow fever situation is not so bad as has been pictured, that the disease is now thoroughly under control and that he does not believe that it will prevent the opening of the racing season on Thanksgiving Day. He says the people who wish for the best interests of racing have more to fear from a continuation of strife on the part of the rival tracks than anything else.

* * *

Officials who will act at the coming winter meeting of the Crescent City Jockey Club are announced as A. B. Dade, starter; Frank Bryan and Clarence McPowell, judge.

LIGHTWEIGHTS WILL FIGHT AT WOODWARD'S PAVILION

The next fight of importance to be held in San Francisco is that between Bob Lundie and Dave Barry. These lightweights will box under the auspices of the Hawthorne Athletic Club tomorrow evening at Woodward's Pavilion. Barry, who has been fighting under the name of Tom Sullivan in all of his recent battles, is the legitimate lightweight amateur champion, owing to his victory over Young Choyaski who had taken the title away from Lew Powell.

Lundie is training at Larkspur, where he is putting in stiff work to condition himself for the four-round engagement. He started in Friday to box with Nelson and will act as sparring partner for the Battling Dane until Tuesday. In addition to his gymnasium work he is doing considerable road exercising and should be in excellent trim when he faces the champion. Barry is also putting on his finishing touches at a regular training camp, being stationed at his brother's quarters in Alameda. This fight should fairly bristle with excitement and fast milling.

The special event will also be interesting, as it will bring together two other crack lightweights, who will fight for the honor of meeting the winner of the Lundie-Barry match. They are Jack Rodney and Pete Sullivan. Five other bouts will complete the bill, as follows: Otto Knock vs. Willie Wolff; Harry Riley vs. Jammie Horan; Wm. Conroy vs. Fred Soto; Tom Williams vs. Tom Ryan; John Murphy vs. Al Emmick.

THREE NEW PLAYERS FOR THE OAKLAND TEAM

The three new players of the Oakland Baseball Team left Omaha last night and will join the club Wednesday at Portland.

The new players are Melvin Blexrud, pitcher; Tom Hackett, catcher and Frank Richards, third baseman. All three come from the Keokuk Club of the Iowa State League and are said to be top-notchers.

Blexrud and Hackett from the new battery which will greatly strengthen the leaders and Richards takes Devereaux' place on the third station. Hereafter Devereaux will be kept in reserve as a utility pitcher.

It is expected that Hall will sign Julie Streib, who was recently dropped by the Oakland team. Streib's place on the initial bag has been taken by Doc Moskiman. This change was made, not because there was any fault to be found in Julie, but to strengthen the team's batting.

If Hackett makes good behind the bat, Stanley will probably be dropped from the club's payroll.

FIGHTS HARD FOR A DRAW

Camille Calou, a youngster who has become an enthusiast at boxing during his membership in the Reliance Athletic Club, and who yearns to acquire fame and fortune as a knight of the ring, saw his first victory recorded as a draw the other night, and now his spirit is crushed. It threatens to rise again, however, with the next opportunity to don the gloves with some equally enthusiastic aspirant for the applause of the pugilistic world.

Young Calou, who is little more than well started in his teens, but who has shown considerable aptitude at the boxing game, has long been desirous of putting to a test the instructions he has received from Eddie Smith at the Reliance Club, so he agreed not long ago to meet at an out-of-town club, a fighter who was many years his senior and numerous pounds above him in weight.

Camille's older brother discovered this one-sided match and proceeded to call it off. Then the lad matched himself with Charlie Lavigne for a fight at Angle. The two came together and Calou ran all around the ring after his opponent, doing all the leading and on two occasions knocking Lavigne through the ropes, but at the end it was called a draw. Camille's dampened ardor was partially restored when the referee went to him after the fight and said:

"If this had been anywhere else I would have given you the fight. You ought to have had it."

Camille says that the next time he fights he'll carry a private referee with him.

CALIFORNIANS MAY GO TO GREECE

BERKELEY, August 28.—In discussing the athletes that should be picked to represent America in the Olympic games at Greece next spring a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat mentions several men from this State as probable winners in the events. Among those mentioned are Plaw of California, in the hammer throw, Parsons of Southern California in the 100-meter dash and Dole of Stanford in the pole vault.

A. D. Plaw, '02, was a member of the victorious Eastern track team of 1902, which defeated Princeton. He holds a record of 170 feet in the 16-pound hammer throw.

around. Can't you select a newspaper man?

Britt—I am open to suggestions.

Promotor Coffroth said that he was sorry that it had not been insisted on that the referee be selected on the night of signing the agreement or the next day. He felt that an attempt would be made to put off the selection of a referee till the day of the fight and that was why he insisted on the selection of a referee at least two weeks before the fight.

BRITT WILLING.

Britt—I am willing to proceed.

Nolan—You (addressing Britt) said you were going to name the referee. Why don't you do it? You were quoted in the Bulletin as saying that you were going to name the referee.

Britt—I didn't say that I was going to name the referee. I didn't see that in the Bulletin. If it said so, then it misquoted me.

Coffroth—It seems to me that we could get along a little bit quicker.

Nolan—I've been out of the city for some time and I don't know as many of the referees as the other side does.

Coffroth—Nelson has boxed here six or seven times, or four or five times, any way.

Britt—I have named two men whom I consider great.

Nolan—I have named two good men, also. One of those men has had ten times the experience of both of his men.

PLENTY OF REFEREES.

Coffroth—Can't either of you suggest a plan by which you can end this. There are lots of referees around here.

Britt—I'm open to suggestion.

Nolan—Same here.

Coffroth—We would like to have something done, but it is not my province to butt in.

Nolan—How would Billy Rocap of Philadelphia do?

Britt—I don't know him.

Nolan—He has probably refereed more fights than anyone in the country, barring nobody.

Britt—We've got to get along before 12 o'clock tonight.

Coffroth—There seems to be a deadlock. We'll take a recess till 7:30 o'clock tonight.

NIGHT SESSION.

The session was resumed at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Nolan—How would Miah Murray of Boston do?

Britt—I don't think sporting men know him.

Nolan—I have named quite a list of men. It's up to him now.

Britt—I've named a number of excellent men, but they have all been turned down.

Nolan—So have I named just as many.

Coffroth—We are not making much progress. You are supposed to select a referee tonight. I don't know what to say to expedite matters. You have, Mr. Britt and Mr. Nolan, suggested some good men, but that does not complete the game. You can go farther than that. I don't know what to say to break the ice. I suppose each of you is waiting for the other.

The only reply which this appeal received was the statement by each of the fencers that he was willing to listen to suggestions. After another lengthy period of silence Mr. Britt said:

NAMES BRADY.

Britt—I will name Colonel Martin Brady.

Nolan—I will have to pass Brady. He never had experience. The colonel is a fine fellow, but we could not agree on him. How will Jim Neil suit you?

There was another long silence, which was finally terminated by Mr. Britt.

Britt—We'll pass Neil for the same reason that we passed Brady.

Britt—You know he's Frankie Neil's father.

Britt—How about Phil Wand?

WAND UNKNOWN.

Nolan—He's a very good fellow and he's a thoroughly honest fellow. Phil Wand is not known to Nelson. I have got to respect the wishes of Nelson. He's got to know that he'll be all right.

Coffroth—Well, that's a little progress being made. That's at least coming a little nearer home.

Britt—We ought to have a line clock, so as to watch it.

Coffroth—Well, we've made a good start. Can't you try it again? Is there anybody else besides Wand? We're here in town now or close by. Would it help to make a suggestion to figure on when you want to eliminate sparring? It's your own business. It is midnight in New York now. It is 12 o'clock now in Butte, Bill. Have you got anything further to offer?

Nolan—I have none.

Coffroth—You both understand you have to select a referee tonight, don't you? You both realize that you forfeit considerable money if you don't select a referee tonight?

Both the representatives of the fighters answered in the affirmative.

Coffroth—I would help if I could. I want to let you folks do it.

There was more cross-fire for ten minutes.

Britt—Has Jim Corbett experience as a referee to handle a fight?

For some reason Nolan vouchsafed no answer to this query.

Britt—Well, I don't want to sit here all night.

Nolan—Name a man, then.

FARLEY REFUSES.

Britt—How would John Farley do?

Nolan—John Farley satisfies me.

Farley came into the room at that moment and emphatically refused to accept the honor which had been conferred on him.

Britt—Here's a fellow who would be acceptable to all and who is a side friend to Nelson—Jerry Dunn.

Nolan—I don't know him.

Britt—He refereed all the big fights some time ago—with Sullivan, Kilrain and those.

Mr. Britt then reiterated his criticism of "howling" about referees, declaring that all that they had to do was to keep a cool head. He decried the vanity of some of the tribe who seemed to pride themselves in the fact that in such and such a fight they did not have to run through the fighters to make them break away.

WANTS EVEN BREAK.

Nolan—All that Nelson wants is an even break on the referee.

Britt—Let's exchange names.

Nolan—That is not a good way. I want to talk over names, and if I don't like them to say so. I have named more experienced men than you have.

Then there was an armistice, so to speak, for twenty minutes, during which Britt talked on all kinds of subjects with others in the room, while Nolan puffed his cigar in aborigine silence and contemplation.

DON'T KNOW KITCHEN.

"How will Jack Kitchen of Oakland do?" said Britt, breaking the silence.

Nolan—I don't know Jack Kitchen.

Britt—How will Jack McDonald, the baseball player, do? He's got lots of experience.

Nolan—I don't know Jack McDonald.

Nolan—How would Bat Masterson do?

Britt—Did he ever referee a fight?

Nolan—Twenty, to my knowledge.

Britt—I've reached my limit.

Nolan—I play to form. I have no favorites.

Britt—So do I.

More talk was indulged in for half an hour without result. Mr. Coffroth impressing it upon the minds of the fighters' men that failure to select a referee that night meant a forfeiture to them of $5000.

It was now 11:30 o'clock and Mr. Britt went to sleep on the lounge. He was aroused at five minutes before midnight and another fruitless talk took place, whereupon Mr. Coffroth read the following ultimatum:

COFFROTH'S STATEMENT.

"At the time of signing articles I anticipated the trouble that would come over the selection of a referee and to that end suggested to both principals that they name a referee within twenty-four or forty-eight hours after signing articles. Neither would agree to that. Finally I pinned them down to the proposition of selecting the referee within two weeks in advance of the bout, getting them both to agree that in the event of their failure to select a referee at that time to forfeit each to the club the sum of $2500 deposited with the stakeholder as a guarantee for the match. I expressly stated at the time that I did not wish to interfere in any way with the contestants or hinder them in selecting whom they pleased.

"At this time I feel the same way about the matter. As a result of their disagreement tonight I have the right to call upon the stakeholder for the $5000 deposited with him. I do not wish to do that. I therefore will extend the time for the selection of the referee until 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening, August 27, 1905; if at that time the men cannot agree upon a name I will name the referee myself, subject to their approval. If they disapprove my selection, the contest is off, and I will claim their forfeits. At this time I will add that the sum mentioned, $5000, will not reimburse me for the expense I have gone to."

FLANAGAN IS CHAMPION THROWER

NEW YORK, August 28.—The world's record for the fifty-six-pound weight thrown from a stand without follow was broken yesterday by John Flanagan of the Irish-American Athletic Club, who hurled the missile 31 feet 3 inches—1 foot 10½ inches beyond the record made by himself last winter at Madison Square Garden. The occasion was the opening of the new athletic grounds of the Pastime Athletic Club.

WILL NAME GREAT LABOR DAY PARADE

NEW YORK, August 28.—Plans were completed yesterday by local labor leaders for a Labor Day parade which, they claim will eclipse in point of numbers and display anything of the kind ever attempted in this country. More than 50,000 union men will be in line, and will march through the principal up-town thoroughfares.

Every union to be represented in the parade will place every man on its membership roll in line of march, or as nearly so as is possible. The United Homesmiths and Bridgemen's Union will have 5,000 men. From the International Brotherhood of Teamsters will come 10,000. The Brotherhood of Carpenters expects to have 8,000 men in the parade, while Rockmen's and Excavators' Union will contribute 12,000.

TO MAKE GREAT RAILWAY TERMINAL

NEW YORK, August 28.—At the present rate of progress in the work of improvement, it is expected that three months will see the Grand Central Station razed and work begun on the magnificent structure which is to replace the only railway terminal at present existing on Manhattan Island. Only the non-completion of the temporary offices for the railroad company prevents the work of tearing down the old structure at once.

Work on the improvements has gone as far as it can go without entering the station or causing an interruption of the train service. Where two years ago stood several hundred homes, in the section beside the tracks between Forty-fourth and Forty-Ninth streets, today is an excavation quite extensive in itself, but only a fraction of the great hole that will be made in the nineteen square blocks which the terminal will cover. The plans of the railroad company call for the expenditure of $25,000,000 on the improvements.

BAD BLOOD

INVITES DISEASE

The blood supplies nourishment and strength to every part of the body when it is rich, pure and healthy. When from any cause it becomes diseased or weak it cannot supply the nutriment the system needs, and the body is unable to resist the diseases and troubles that are constantly assailing it to break down the health.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My blood was weak and impure, and as a result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds in weight, had no appetite and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and am well pleased with the results after using it for some little while. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I no not hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it. H. MARTIN. Warren, O., 60 Second St.

Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are the results of bad or diseased blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure, strong and healthy, these diseases will continue. The greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics is S. S. S. It has been curing all diseases of the blood for more than forty years by going down to the very root of the trouble, forcing out all poisons and impurities and building up every part of the system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and cures them permanently. S. S. S. is the acknowledged king of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. Books on the different diseases, and any medical advice you may wish will be given without charge.

SEALS LOSE TO THE TIGERS

TACOMA, August 28.—The Tigers finished the series with a rush and by playing errorless ball and batting like fiends yesterday they managed to take the double-header and break even. In the morning Hitt was wild and was batted opportunely, while bases were freely stolen. Hogan's fine throws to bases and clever headwork cut off several scores. Fitzgerald kept bunglers well scattered. In the seventh Spencer scored on his pass and Gochnauer's two-bagger.

Henley was a chopping block in the matinee affair. After six rounds of agony he was relieved by Hildebrand, who shut out the Tigers for the last two innings. Emerson was hit quite often, but kept them scattered and was given magnificent support. A pass to Waldron, Mohler's hit for two sacks and Hildebrand's drive scored the former two. Lynch and Nordyke were the batting kids. Henley's delivery looking sweet to them. In the eighth Hildebrand furnished some comedy by racing between third and the plate while the entire Tacoma infield tried to tag him out. He was finally run down, but Nealon who passed him on the line was ruled out.

FARMER'S WIFE HAS DISAPPEARED

Mrs. Manuel Raposa, the wife of a farmer in Fitzburg, has disappeared from her home, and it is believed that she has eloped with a young farmhand, who seemed to be more attractive to her than her husband.

About eight days ago this farmhand, who was known as "John," asked his employer for his wages, as he desired to leave. The money was given him, and he went away. On the same day, during the absence of her husband, Mrs. Raposa packed up her belongings and also left, and has since been seen with "John." Raposa, who is heart-broken over the disappearance of his wife. Mrs. Raposa is described as being a young and pretty brunette.

A sensible man never has any spare time to attend to other people's business unless he is hired for that purpose.

LABORER CAUGHT BY CABLE

F. S. FALLON OF OAKLAND FATALLY INJURED WHILE AT WORK.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.—Before a horrified crowd F. S. Fallon, a laborer, was gradually drawn into a rapidly revolving drum or windlass near Second and King streets yesterday. The unfortunate man's glove caught in a strand of wire cable and he was pulled, despite his utmost resistance, into a tangle of cable. His ribs and arms were terribly crushed and his recovery is improbable.

Fallon was a laborer on some construction work for Gray Bros. He was standing near the hoisting machine just as the engineer turned the lever. His glove caught in a strand of the cable.

Fallon desperately tried to tear himself free, but the glove was firmly entangled in the cable. His hand was dragged under a coil of the rope and he was jammed against the machinery. The engineer quickly reversed his lever, but the relentless piece of mechanism had already almost crushed the life out of Fallon. The coils of wire rope had enveloped him with a stronger grip than the coils of a boa constrictor.

People who saw Fallon dragged into the clutches of the iron monster shrieked and closed their eyes. It took some time to disentangle the unfortunate man from the wire coils. He was immediately taken to the Central Emergency Hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Pinkham. The surgeon declared that the injured man had no chance of recovery. Fallon has been living at 609 Seventeenth street, Oakland.

CONVERTS OLD BONDS TO NEW

NEW YORK, August 28.—The term for the conversion of the six per cent bonds of the Internal debt expired yesterday, says a Herald dispatch from Buenos Ayres, Argentina. Out of a total of holders of $63,000,000, those of $48,000,000 adhered to the conversion plan, besides those of $3,000,000 at Antwerp and of $4,000,000 in Paris, London and other European cities, forming a total of $55,000,000. There remain only $8,000,000 under the old conditions.

SPENT $200,000 IN THREE YEARS

CHICAGO, August 28.—William Ely, held by the police for the Johannson jewelry store hold-up, has squandered $200,000 within three years, according to the confession he made last night to Inspector Shippy. This money, he said, was left him at the death of his father.

Most of his fortune went in betting on horse races, Ely said. He further hinted that being unable to obtain employment, he had been forced to become a hold-up man.

Two other men, suspected of being the accomplices of Ely, have been arrested.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit innoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

CIRCUS SOON TO BE HERE

GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH PLAYS IN OAKLAND TWO NIGHTS.

On September 11 and 12 the Barnum & Bailey Show will exhibit in Oakland. The many wonders of the earth procured at an enormous expense by this unapproachable aggregation are to be seen this season under the immense tents of the greatest show on earth. The most thrilling and sensational offering of the age—an act in which a beautiful French girl, Mlle. Mauricia de Tiers, loops the gap in an automobile, is to be seen this season—a veritable "Dip of Death"—named by the reason of its daring intrepidity and incredible nerve. The Ancillotti Brothers, in their unparalleled feat of looping and leaping the quadruple chasms, will also be added to a program of varied amusements, including the Imperial Viennese Troupe of aerialists the Lecusson Company of acrobats, the Florenz aggregation of human pyramids, three rings of never ceasing sensational acts, two stages of innumerable surprises, zoological display of the world's rarest wild beasts, and thirty clowns who turn sadness into mirth by their comedy conceits of side-splitting antics.

The railroads have consented to make very low rates so that all may be able to take advantage of the "Greatest Show on Earth" wherever it appears. These special low rates will be good on all roads and ample facilities will be made to handle the crowds.

There will be no parade this year, the management having decided to place all possible time and effort in the show proper, thereby giving the public a far greater value for their money than heretofore. Grand free attractions of world-wide renown will be seen on the circus grounds free on the day of the exhibition.

LIVE AGAIN EARLY ROMANCES

A very pleasant reunion of old-time friends is being had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Walker of this city. The occasion of it is the visit of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller of Emporia, Kans., and Dr. and Mrs. James Curry and daughter of Vacaville.

Quite a number of years ago there lived in Marysville, Ohio, three sisters, Agnes E., Elizabeth J. and Margaret A. Sloan, where they attended school at Vermillion Institute. There came to this school in the days soon after the Civil War three young men who had served in the Union army. One result of their coming was their acquaintance with and subsequent marriage to these young ladies. Mr. Curry was married to Miss M. A. Sloan September 30, 1873, and the couple came at once to California, where they have since resided. Dr. Curry for ten years was a pastor in Oakland, and under his pastorate the beautiful Alden Presbyterian Church was built. He has also been identified with educational work in San Francisco Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian church and is now secretary of the board of directors of that institution.

Mr. Walker was married to Elizabeth Sloan January 8, 1874. They moved at once to Nebraska, where they lived for over twenty years, and during this time Mr. Walker served a term in the State Legislature. Ten years ago they came to Oakland and during most of this time he has been in business with the San Francisco Laundry Association. Mr. and Mrs. Walker are active workers in the Union Street Presbyterian Church of this city.

Mr. Miller was married to Agnes E. Sloan April 30, 1874, and since that time they have been engaged in Christian work in Kansas. Dr. Miller has held several important pastorates in that State and for seven years was the successful president of the Presbyterian College of Emporia, Kans., from which position he has just resigned.

These parties have not been together for ten years and are now having a delightful reunion, living over the scenes of former years, visiting places of interest in California, and enjoying the present to the fullest extent.

Dr. and Mrs. Miller will start on their return to Kansas on Monday evening, August 28, and will visit Portland, Or., and the Lewis and Clark Exposition, Tacoma, Seattle and other places on their way home.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist Church of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I til I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which tried many remedies, without relief, unentirely cured my cough and saved me from consumption." THEY MEAN BUSINESS

Ministers Plan a Temperance Campaign.

BERKELEY, August 28.—All the ministers of Berkeley, of all denominations, whether actively engaged in preaching or not, met in the rooms of the central Young Men's Christian Association this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of considering the petitions, asking the Trustees to call an election on the saloon question, which will be turned in at that time. These petitions have been in circulation for some time and have a large number of signers. The various phases of the proposed no-license clause in the revised charter were taken up and discussed this afternoon.

Dr. A. S. Coates, president of the Berkeley organization of churches presided and Rev. R. S. Eastman acted as secretary.

"SOPHS." ARE SLOW

Class Fails to Fix the Big "C."

BERKELEY, August 28.—The repairs on the Charter hill C were again postponed last Saturday on account of the small number of men who turned out. As was the case one week ago the force of sophomores who presented themselves at the university barn was totally inadequate to carry the cement up the hill. For this reason President Burke was again forced to give up the project and it is feared that unless a larger number of '08 men express their willingness to turn out for this work the C will have to be turned over to the freshman class in its present state.

SCHOOL PUPILS ELECT OFFICERS

BERKELEY, August 28.—The December class of 1905, McKinley School, has reorganized for the graduating term. Oscar Clayton was elected president; Esmond Wiley, vice-president; William Goebel, secretary; Elizabeth Huggins, treasurer.

"The Target," the school paper, will make its first appearance for the term late in September. The following corps will look after its interests during the term: Mabel Mattern, editor-in-chief; Ruth Hamblin, Evelyn Banker, Anna Biedenbach and Gladys Partridge, assistant editors; Phobe Knowles and Lee Oi, artists; S. N. Wyckoff, business manager; Bruce Marquand and Esmond Wiley, assistants.

True love is founded on the rock of reverence.

NO NEED TO WORRY

Minds of Students Are Set at Rest.

BERKELEY, August 28.—The anxiety of the undergraduates in connection with the filing of the study cards for the current half year has been set at rest by an announcement from the recorder's office setting definite dates for the final arrangement of courses for the fall term. The work of filing the lists will begin this morning and will extend over a period of three days. The following arrangement has been made by Recorder James Sutton in order to avoid the usual crowding and inconvenience that accompanies registration. Today all whose names begin with A to F, all classes, will be attended to; tomorrow, August 29, all classes, G to N, and on Wednesday, the 30th, the remainder will have an opportunity of filing their study lists. The cards will be filed in Harmon gymnasium between the hours of 8 a. m. to 12 m. and 1 and 4 p. m.

The system employed in this connection will be similar to that used in registration. The students will present their study cards, together with their registration certificates, denoting the number of hours that may be taken, and all these will be stamped with the recorder's seal.

This system of filing the study cards several days after the preliminary registration was introduced this year. The idea is to do away with the great rush of work on registration day and also the necessity of appointing certain days later on in the term for changing of the study lists.

SAVANTS REWARD

Purse for Man Who Fought a Plague.

BERKELEY, August 28.—Entomologist J. H. Quayle, who left the university last week for Ames, Iowa, was presented shortly before his departure with a purse of $450 by the San Mateo Chamber of Commerce. This fund was presented to him in appreciation of his work last year in exterminating the mosquito pest in that vicinity.

Mr. Quayle devoted a large part of his time during the past year to the work of ridding San Mateo and Burlingame of the mosquitoes that were bred in the swamps of that vicinity. This was his first work of importance in the State, but the magnitude of the task and the thoroughness with which he performed it gained him a widespread reputation.

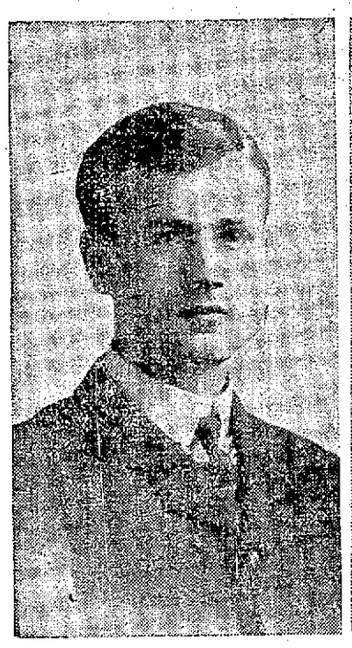

During the coming year the position made vacant by the absence of Mr. Quayle will be filled by W. T. Clarke of the department of university extension.

TALKS IN FRENCH AT UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, August 28.—A number of lectures in French are to be given by Robert Dupouey, instructor at the University of California, on Mondays and Fridays, at 3 p. m., in Stiles Hall, first floor. They will be open to the public. The subject is "Representative Frenchmen of the Nineteenth Century" (such men as Ernest Renan, Hippolyte Taine, Tasteur, Gaston Paris, Waldeck, Rousseau and others who have had a marked influence on French civilization).

SALOON "ADS." IN UNIVERSITY MAGAZINES PROVOKE A STORM

JOSEPH SIDNEY KOFORD, Editor-in-Chief. KATHARINE HERSHEY, Women's Editor. JACKSON GREGORY, Managing Editor.

BERKELEY, August 28.—Saloon advertisements, printed conspicuously in the columns of the oldest, most pretentious and conservative of the University of California publications—the Occident Magazine—have been met with a storm of protest and criticism that threatens, ere its force is spent, to provoke at the University a journalistic scandal the like of which has never before agitated campus habitues and those who direct student affairs at the State institution.

A strong religious element is influential in the student body, this element taking concrete form in the college Y. M. C. A. Its strength has often been shown in student elections and other forms of college activity. Its influence always has been for the conservative and strictly moral manner of life at the University, and now it is demonstrating its might by launching strenuous protests against an innovation, in the form of prominent saloon advertisements, appearing in the advertising columns of the staid and dignified Occident.

LIQUOR "ADS."

"Shall liquor advertisements be given space in the University publications?" That is the question that worries the University officials, the Y. M. C. A. folk and the W. C. T. U. element in Berkeley.

The State law makes the selling of liquor within a mile of the University an offense punishable with severe penalties. The students are protected thus from temptation to indulge in strong liquor, but farther than that the State does not presume to interfere. The University men may journey to Oakland, San Francisco or elsewhere and taste liquor or indulge in dissipation as they choose. The University does not forbid this.

EDWARD BLACKMAN, Literary Editor.

The most radical religious and temperance elements at the college and in Berkeley do not ask for such interference. They do most strenuously object, however, to an official publication of the students, and that a high-class, literary University magazine, edited and controlled by students, exploiting Oakland and San Francisco saloons, informing students where they can procure liquor in Oakland and San Francisco, and tacitly urging them to patronize well-known saloons.

This feature of the Occident's policy has stirred the temperance and religious people at the University, and before the question is settled an agitation of unusual force is to be carried on, having for its aim a change of policy on the part of the Occident editors with respect to saloon advertisements.

Four big saloon "ads" grace the Occident's pages, Oakland and San Francisco emporiums being represented in the Occident's pages. Students are invited to take their choice of the resorts. The coin from the saloons helps the Occident to pay its bills, and this feature of the journalistic game excites tremendously the Y. M. C. A. crowd and its allied forces.

STUDENTS IN CHARGE.

Joseph Koford is editor of the Occident. His assistants are Jackson Gregory, Edward Blackman and Katherine Hershey. The business manager is George Brown. They have heard the mutterings of the storm, but thus far have given no intention of changing the policy of the magazine they control. The Y. M. C. A. may rage—the Occident staff goes serenely on its way, apparently unperturbed and blissfully indifferent to the storm raging about their heads.

The Daily Californian, also edited by a student staff, refuses to admit liquor advertisements to its columns, though many saloons have sought entrance to the Californian pages. Those who desire the Occident to do likewise are not slow to cite the Californian's example and to urge that every University publication taboo saloon advertising, even though the profits are large and the revenue tempting.

MAIDEN'S PLIGHT

Berkeley Girl Almost Lost All Her Pennies.

BERKELEY, August 28.—The heart of Judge R. S. Edgar was touched when little Laura Blake, a pretty 12-year-old girl, came into court, crying bitterly and carrying in her hand a savings bank which she proposed to use in paying her fine for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk.

The savings bank contained exactly $4.95, all the money that Laura possessed, and with it she believed she could satisfy justice and perhaps escape the possibility of being sent to jail. All of a child's terror of "the jail" was evident in Miss Laura's face as she stepped into Judge Edgar's courtroom, and her tears flowed freely as she made her way into the inclosure reserved for "prisoners at the bar."

Little Laura, barely able to mount and ride a wheel, was detected by a police officer last night riding her bicycle on the sidewalk near her home in North Berkeley. She was arrested and directed to come into court Saturday.

In the savings bank that Laura carried was a collection of dimes, nickels, pennies and a few quarters. The wealth represented the child's idea of a fortune, and yet she was prepared to give it all to satisfy the demands of justice and go free.

Judge Edgar smiled as the testimony was being taken in Laura's case, but when the little maid put her box of money on the table and sobbed out her desire to "go home," the smile on the face of the Judge faded away and something suspiciously like a "mist of unshed tears" came into his eyes.

"I guess, Miss Laura," said the grave and august court, "that you will not again violate the law, and that we won't have to take your savings bank money today. You may go for this time."

To the clerk Judge Edgar said: "Judgment suspended in the case of Laura Blake."

WANTS A "POLY"

School Official Proposes New Remedy.

BERKELEY, August 28.—Regarding the proposed establishment of a Polytechnic High School in Berkeley, using the Berkeley Commercial School as a nucleus, City Superintendent of Schools S. D. Waterman said this morning:

"The present abnormal enrollment in the High School, and the prospects for an increase of over 100 in attendance for the term beginning with January, 1906, suggest the necessity for immediate action for the relief of this school. It seems that the time has come for the establishment of a first-class commercial and polytechnic high school in Berkeley. This school should be the best of its kind. Thorough instruction in commercial branches, sciences, mathematics and manual training should be given. Besides giving a completed and well-rounded course for all students who prefer a secondary school of this kind, it should afford ample preparation for the "applied science" course in the University.

"Even if eight rooms were added to the present building, all of them would be in use within a year. Besides 600 or 700 pupils in one high school are all that can be handled effectively. A larger number interferes with good discipline and thorough instruction.

OPTION OF TECHNICAL COURSE.

"Should a first-class polytechnic school of this kind be established, probably 200 of the present students in the High School would be glad to avail themselves of the change in courses. The present commercial school, consisting of 100, would naturally be merged into this school. Students on completing the grammar school could have an option of the purely literary secondary school training or a secondary training in a technical school, which would incidentally fit them for corresponding courses in the University.

CALL FOR $40,000 BONDS.

"In the original scheme for bonding as outlined by the bonding committee appointed by the Mayor, $40,000 was School and $20,000 additional for manual School and $20,000 additional for manual training. Would it not be wise to call for at least $40,000 additional and proceed at once to purchase a lot and erect a suitable building for the establishment of a school of the kind outlined? Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles have schools of this kind and the tendency all over the country seems to be to separate the purely literary work of high schools from the practical and technical work by the establishment of just such schools as contemplated. This plan, if adopted, will afford not only present relief, but relief for several years."

GIRL SAVES A CHILD FROM BURNING

Miss Margaret Dooley Proves Herself to be a Heroine at Alameda.

ALAMEDA, August 28.—His clothing ablaze, little Willard Theobald, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Theobald of 745 Santa Clara avenue, had a narrow escape at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon from being burned to death. Had not Margaret Dooley, aged 18, a servant girl employed by the Theobalds, rushed to the rescue and bravely smothered the fire, which had burned through the child's dress and was eating into his flesh, the results would have been fatal.

As it is, little Willard has severe burns over two-thirds of his chest and abdomen, while the blaze flared up in his face and also caused painful burns on his cheeks and nose. Miss Dooley had her hands painfully burned in rescuing the child, but is not seriously injured. It is stated that the little boy will recover, although his burns extend over a considerable area.

The child had been playing with his brother Robert, aged 8, who had been baking some potatoes at a fire he started in the rear yard. He left later with some boy companions, but before he did so he says he threw sand on the fire and supposed it was out.

Little Willard, who had been watching his brother's cookery experiments, succeeded in starting up the blaze afresh and tried to roast some potatoes for himself. In the operation his skirts took fire and he was heard screaming with pain as the blaze ran up his clothing.

Miss Dooley saw the child's danger, and rushing from the house succeeded with her apron and dress in smothering the fire, but not before the entire front part of the little one's dress had been burned off. Holes were burned in her own clothing and her hands painfully burned in places in fighting the blaze.

The little boy was carried into the house and Dr. Henry M. Pond summoned. Dr. Pond states that while the burns are severe the child will recover.

FUNERAL OF T. DRISCOLL.

ALAMEDA, August 28.—The remains of Timothy Driscoll, a pioneer resident of California and early day miner, whose death occurred Saturday in this city, will be sent tonight to Redding, his old home, where the funeral will be held tomorrow morning. They will be accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Mary Shed, with whom he resided here, and his granddaughter, Miss Ida Klein. Deceased was a native of Waterford, Ireland, aged 79 years, and over fifty years ago he settled in Shasta county. For seven years he had made his home with his daughter at 2432 Buena Vista avenue, and for four years he had been an invalid, death being due to paralysis.

ASKS FOR ESTIMATES.

ALAMEDA, August 28.—City Clerk J. W. Gillogly has sent notices to heads of all municipal departments asking that estimates of the expenses of the coming fiscal year be filed not later than September 6. The tax rate is to be fixed by the City Trustees on the first Monday in October. The rate in the present years has been $1.38, an unusualy high figure, due largely to the fact that payments had to be made on sewer bonds. These bonds are now all paid up, and for the coming fiscal year it is not expected that the tax rate will exceed $1.25.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

ALAMEDA, August 28.—The engagement of Miss Laura Bunker to Bert C. Scott was announced Saturday afternoon at a tea given by the bride-to-be's mother, Mrs. E. A. Bunker, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. B. N. Gunn, 2224 Scott street, San Francisco.

MERCHANTS ARE GUESTS AT NAPA VINEYARDS

Theodore Gier Invites the Directors of the Exchange to His Country Place.

The annual excursion of the Directors of the Merchants' Exchange took place yesterday, and all the invited guests enjoyed a pleasant outing in the vineyards at Napa.

About forty-three left Oakland yesterday on the train. At Napa large busses were taken to the vineyards of Theo. Gier.

On arriving at Napa the guests were received by Mr. Gier and given a hearty welcome. They first partook of light refreshments, and then proceeded to inspect the vineyards.

After enjoying the grapes and wines the guests returned to partake of an elaborate dinner which was served by Mr. Gier. Some interesting remarks were made by Secretary Stearns and Supervisor Rowe, and a welcoming address given by Mr. Gier himself.

After dinner some of the guests enjoyed a row on the lake while others sought other pleasures. The wine cellars were also inspected by the guests.

When it was time for their departure all expressed that they had not experienced such a pleasant time for many years.

TAGGART CASE IS LIVELY

Witness Calls Attorney a Liar in the Court-room.

WOOSTER, Ohio, August 28.—Immediately upon the opening of court today, Mrs. Taggart entered the room. In anticipation of her appearance the court room filled rapidly and a large audience was present.

Contrary to expectations, Mrs. Taggart was not placed on the stand at the opening. A controversy occurred between the attorneys about a letter referred to in some papers received from the War Department by Mrs. Taggart's attorneys. Mr. Weitz was put on the stand and asked some questions by ex-Judge Smyser about the letter. After considerable discussion, the letter was read. It was from Adjutant-General Corbin, and referred to the charges of General Miner. It was to the effect that the report had been shown to the Secretary of War and he regretted this unfavorable report from a man otherwise an efficient officer. Capt. Taggart should be admonished about his conduct; that strict watch should be made that he kept the pledge he had made and that for some time a monthly report of his conduct be made to the War Department.

The inference made by Mrs. Taggart's attorneys was that the letter had been removed from a number of papers received from Washington. This was resented by Mr. Taggart's attorney. As Mr. Weitz left the stand he made some remark to ex-Judge Smyser, which the latter resented. At this point Weitz called Symser a liar. The feeling was intense and bitter for a minute. Judge Eason finally quelled the disturbance.

FIGHT AGAINST FEVER

OFFICERS IN NEW ORLEANS HAVE SITUATION WELL IN HAND.

NEW ORLEANS, August 28.—The fifth week of the fight against yellow fever began today with a continuance of the favorable conditions and a feeling that the crisis has passed.

The fact that there are only 199 cases under treatment, and many of them of the lightest character being especially significant. In the thirty-one cases of the preceding twenty-four hours, only five were Italians and there were only three cases reported from the originally infected location. The Marine Hospital has a man in touch with every infected point outside of New Orleans.

Surgeon John Esdorf having started for Leeville, from which the information continues to be vague, owing to its isolation.

DR. ANDREWS GIVES A LECTURE

CHICAGO, August 28.—Developments of will power in the pupils was given precedence over intellectual training by Dr. Andrews, president of the University of Nebraska, today in a lecture before the Cook County Teachers' Institute.

Dr. Andrews told the teachers they were making a mistake if they permitted an extraordinary or precocious child to run riot along the line he may show precocity, and not seek to aid the pupil in receiving a large development.

CHANGE IN THE TARIFF

New Deal is Expected for Products at Islands.

MANILA, August 28.—Secretary Taft, Miss Roosevelt, and the Misses Boardman and Macmillan, during the rest of their stay at Manila will be guests of Commissioner Legardo, where their entertainment will be in accordance with old native customs.

Tomorrow, August 29, Mr. Legardo will give a farewell reception party, and the same night Bourke Cochran will lecture for the medical dispensers of the St. Paul's Hospital, his subject being "The Sole Unfailing Fountain of Prosperity." The sale of seats for this lecture has been unprecedented.

A consensus of opinion of the majority of the party upon their return from a visit to the southern provinces, is to the effect that at least 25 per cent reduction will be made in the Dingley tariff, if not absolute free trade, will be granted the products of the islands which do not interfere with the same products of the United States. The leaders of the party will also recommend during the next session of Congress the establishment of a postal bank by the government and also an agricultural bank safeguarded by the government.

The building of railroads, will, it is believed, solve the Philippine questions.

CAN GET ALL THE LABOR WANTED

CHAIRMAN SHONTS SAYS THE WORK WILL SOON COMMENCE.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., August 28.—Theodore Shonts, chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission, was a diner with Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Saturday evening. He came to talk over with the President some matters in connection with the canal work.

Chairman Shonts said in response to inquiries about the resignation of Superintendent Prescott of the Panama Railway that Mr. Prescott had resigned presumably because of strictures made upon his conduct of the road. He said Mr. Prescott had been succeeded by Mr. Bierd of the Rock Island system, who is now en route to Panama to assume his new duties.

"I have laid off all steam shovels," said Mr. Shonts, "until the railroad tracks have been put into proper condition for their use. I found when I was on the isthmus at least six steam shovels out of which the operators were not getting to exceed 25 per cent of efficiency. That condition could not be allowed, so we have stopped all steam shovel work.

"We shall have no difficulty in getting all the labor we may want. The superintendent who has charge of that branch of the work has worked 75,000 men on a single contract, and he says he could get 100,000 blacks for work on the canal if so many were needed. The principal idea at present is to provide quarters for the employes, to establish good sanitary conditions and to arrange for the prompt payment of the men. Once these preliminaries are arranged we will begin to make the dirt fly."

Mikado's Men Are Discussing Situation in Private.

TOKIO, August 28, 2:30 p. m.—The conference of the Cabinet officers and elder statesmen adjourned at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and the participants proceeded to a place where the deliberations were continued under the presidency of the Emperor.

It is believed that their decision will mean the continuance of the war, or peace.

No manifestations have resulted from the outwardly critical situation.

MARRY TO ROB VICTIMS

BAND OF BIGAMISTS ARE ACTIVE IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 28.—Investigation of Dr. George A. Willschoff, the bigamist, revealed last night that there is an organized band on the East Side, numbering seventy-five members, who during the last ten years have married more than 1,000 young women for their savings, deserting them within a few days or weeks, according to the length of time it took to cajole them out of their money.

The head of this combine is known as Harry Kauffman, and when arrested and arraigned in the Essex Market Court two years ago he was confronted by twenty-six women who claimed him for husband.

Dr. Willschoff, whose matrimonial exploits were uncovered through the efforts of Miss Dora Dorf, whom he married under the name of Weston, joined the organization six years ago and immediately became one of its leaders. It was found, through one of his earlier wives, Mrs. Sophie Youcar, that Willschoff has married more than thirty young women whose names are known and is the husband of more than one hundred girls in addition, whom he married in other cities. The organized gang which has been engaged in marrying East-Side young women for their money has had headquarters and maintained an association firmly bound together. They operated through the medium of matrimonial agencies, or "schatzens," who were hand in glove with the members and who hunted up young women eligibles, presenting them to the men harpies who sought their savings.

TIVOLI PREPARES FOR A BIG SEASON

Another big success will be given at the Tivoli Opera House tonight and every night next week, when Francis Wilson's original New York Casino version of "Erminie" will be presented.

The play is excellently staged by Max Freeman and has a splendid cast.

"Erminie" will be the attraction at this theater all week with the usual matinee on Saturday.

Monday evening, September 11, will be the opening of the Grand Opera Season. The sale of seats will begin today and a great success is anticipated.

WOMEN WILL ENTER CONTEST

CHICAGO, August 28.—The annual struggle for the woman's Western golf championship is on. Nine teams of four players each are in today's events, in competition against bogey. The women's bogey for the course has been set at 100.

RUSSIA WILL NOT ACCEPT

Journal Declares That the Terms Are Not Satisfactory.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 28—The Sviet today says:

The Japanese conditions for peace would only be acceptable if a Japanese fleet were threatening St. Petersburg, and a Japanese army was occupying Moscow. Russia will not bow to the Japanese yoke to fulfill President Roosevelt's desire to guarantee the American creditors of Japan and to cover himself with glory as a peacemaker.

Japan, needing peace, seeks it through the intermediary of her friend, President Roosevelt, and makes exorbitant demands, while the President is stirring indirectly to exact the consent of Russia. After long and fruitless negotiations, it would seem that we are on the eve of what Russia has long desired—a great battle between General Linevitch and Field Marshal Oyama.

WANT AN EIGHT HOUR DAY

PRINTERS IN CHICAGO NOW DEMAND BETTER HOURS.

CHICAGO, Ill., August 28.—Having planned to raise enough funds to carry a small army of men on strike indefinitely, officers of the Typographical Union here today demanded signed agreements from members of the Typothetae for the eight-hour day under threat of instant strike.

By the plan it is intended to have a general strike of job printers in all the big cities near Chicago from Ohio to Missouri and Minnesota. Local unionists plan to halt the importation of non-union compositors from outside cities, and it is believed this can be made effective owing to the present troubles existing in cities outside of Chicago.

CHILDREN ARE LEFT BEHIND

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Did Not Provide For Two Boys.

ALBANY, N. Y., August 28.—A couple registered at the Hotel Teneyck here last Thursday as Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rogers of San Francisco, and disappeared from the hotel Friday night, leaving behind them two children, both boys, six years and six months old respectively.

The children are being cared for by the hotel management, but if the parents do not call for them today, they will be placed in charge of charity authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers left without paying their board bill and after getting the hotel to cash a certified check. The police have heard that the couple came here from Washington and today telegraphed to that city in an effort to locate them.

PROFESSORS ARE NOTSATISFIED

ODESSA, August 28.—The Minister of Public Instruction has notified the officials of the local university and other institutions of his intention to amend the university statutes of 1884, which have been condemned by professors and students all over the country. A meeting today of 342 professors decided to continue to abstain from practicing university work until a new order of things is established and the people generally are given all civil rights, and the universities are granted academic autonomy.

SOON TO LIFT THE BOYCOTT

Chinese Will Stop the Battle Against American Goods.

WASHINGTON, August 28—Of importance to the southern cotton spinners and weavers is the announcement by Minister Rockhill today, that the Chinese boycott on American piece goods is about to be lifted.

Cabling from Pekin the minister says that his information is to the effect that the anti-American boycott as a whole is gradually subsiding.

The Chinese merchants of Shanghai dealing in piece goods are strongly opposing the boycott and taking steps which Mr. Rockhill believes are likely to break it so far, as to practically end it, as far as cotton goods are concerned.

WANT REFORMS IN THE ARMY

PLAN TO DO AWAY WITH SERVANTS FOR OFFICERS.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 28.—Following the Russian reverses at Liao Yang, Mukden, the Sea of Japan, etc., earnest and persistent demands were made upon the War Office for army reforms, one result of which is that it is now proposed to do away with officers personal military servants at the front, making the officers an allowance with which to provide themselves with servants, but doing with military servants.

This will increase the fighting force by nearly 50,000 men.

OUTLOOK IS VERY GRAVE

Militia is Sent Out to Keep the Peace.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., August 28.—The battalion of the Third Tennessee National Guard, ordered from camp at Harriman to Tracy City, left this morning.

The ride is twenty miles and will be made with due caution.

Pilot trains will precede the train, as all sorts of threats have been made to dynamite culverts.

The officers in command are veterans of the Spanish war. All is quiet at Tracy City this morning. Men who are posted on the situation consider the outlook very grave.
